C: Correct. "Britons were part of a way of living, thinking and seeing the world that had spread right across the continent."
D: Incorrect. Britons were "at least as sophisticated as" people in Europe.

33 A: Incorrect. The discovery of the images was made public, but the writer does not suggest this should have been avoided. She implies the images should have been protected.
B: Correct. "As a result, some etchings may already have been adversely affected, albeit inadvertently, by eager visitors."
C: Incorrect. The text states that many people knew about the etchings within hours of their discovery, but it does not say that they visited the cave within hours of the discovery.
D: Incorrect. Measures were taken too late to prevent damage that had already been done. But this text does not say that the measures themselves are ineffective.

B: Incorrect. Dr Carruthers does not think their function "can be determined with any certainty", but she does not imply they were no particular purpose.

37 D: Writer A's view is: "The early manned space flights generated genuine interest around the world, but why really were nowadays. ...?" Writer B's view is: "It seems to have lost its appeal for many people". Writer C's view is: "People with a vested interest will say that human space flight is important for the prestige and glamour of space exploration and for the way it draws young minds into science and technology." But that it would be more exciting to invest the money in science education." So, A, B and C don't believe manned space flight is inspirational these days. Writer D, however, says: 'people do not feel excited when they see robots launched into space. Computers attached to a rocket will not stimulate the imagination of the enthusiasm for space exploration.' This implies that manned space flight is what inspires people.

Writer A says: "Who really believes it will ever be feasible to ... migrate to these places in the event of a catastrophe?" Writer C says: "The idea that humans will ever be able or want to settle on the moon or anywhere else in space is unthinkable." So, writers
