MOVIE: Flirting With Disaster, 8:30pm, Movie Extra
Best Stiller: Fabricio Argente. Stiller is a scientist, happily married to Arquette, who has recently given birth to their first child. Life's just perfect... except for one thing: he has a compulsion to smack down his biological parents. So with the help of loopy psychologist Ben Lopez the adoption isn't emblematic of a journey that proves tumultuous at every turn. With scripting and kinetic direction from David S. Russell (the genius behind Three Kings) make this edge road movie a winner. The evolving chaos and off-center characters spawned from Miller's disastrous plight result in some spectacularly funny situations. Russell never cuts a float scene.

SUNDAY RADIO

In the National Interest, noon, Sunday, Radio National Prime Movers discusses with Dr Bob Bennett the proposition that some universities, obliged to make a profit, increasingly draw income from overseas students and are churning out foreign graduates with qualifications that can secure permanent residency in Australia. Is this the way to sustain the Lucky Country? Will need nurses and skilled tradesmen and a rapidly ageing population suggests we'll need a legion of carers. Is there a special benefit to the "diploma factories" or is it a matter of degree? Doug Anderson
