Sharma,Oommen C. Kurian,2020-11-05 This report analyses the use of child labour 1 in the textiles and allied industries in India and the drivers that lead to its prevalence India home to one fifth of the world s children has the highest rates of child labour an estimated 33 million children under the age of 18 are engaged in work in various sectors across the country from domestic service and agriculture to textiles and mining The textiles and allied industries are the second largest employers in India after agriculture with 40 million direct and 60 million indirect employees As a traditionally labour intensive industry where flexible and low cost labour has driven growth and pushed India s global competitiveness in the sector the textiles sector is enabled by the massive use of child labour The continuing practice of child labour has the potential to jeopardise India s push for incentivising foreign investments into the sector and integrating into global supply chains This report seeks to address key facets of the issue and provide holistic policy solutions It is divided into three sections Chapter 1 reviews key literature about child labour in India particularly its causes and impacts The second chapter provides an analysis of child labour in India within the garment and textile industry using data from 88 sub state regions a collection of districts covered by the National Sample Survey NSS of 2011 2012 The final chapter tests the hypothesis that labour costs are the main drivers of global competitiveness in the textiles and allied industries This is done through an analysis of NSSO unit level data from the Enterprises Survey 2015 16 of ten sub state regions a Global Pathways to Abolishing Physical Punishment Joan E. Durrant,Anne B. Smith,2010-12-20 This book describes the unfolding of a global phenomenon the legal prohibition of physical punishment of children Until thirty years ago this near universal practice was considered appropriate necessary and a parental right But a paradigm shift in conceptions of childhood has led to a global movement to redefine it as violence and as a violation of children s rights Today many countries have prohibited it in all settings including the home This remarkable shift reflects profound cultural changes in thinking about children and their development parent child relationships and the role of the state in family life It has involved actors in many sectors including academia government non governmental organizations and children themselves Documenting the stories of countries that have either prohibited corporal punishment of children or who are moving in that direction this volume will serve as a sourcebook for scholars and advocates around the world who are interested in the many dimensions of physical punishment and its elimination

Digitalization and child labour in agriculture

Termeer, E.,Vos, B.,Bolchini, A.,Van Ingen, E.,Abrokwa, K.,2023-06-08 This paper is the product of a collaboration between the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO and Wageningen University and Research WUR to explore the potential application of innovative technologies to improve data collection and risk estimation of child labour in the cocoa sector In particular it assesses the potential role of blockchain technology and Geographic Information Systems GIS in collecting and sharing data on cocoa growing areas in Ghana and how this could contribute to monitoring and ultimately preventing child labour in those areas During an inception mission undertaken by FAO in Ghana open consultations with various stakeholders in the cocoa sector led to the identification of a number of Key Data Elements KDEs to inform the design of a blockchain system with the objective to facilitate real time cost efficient and collaborative monitoring of the risk of child labour in cocoa growing areas in Ghana WUR was commissioned by the FAO to further explore the potential application of blockchain technology and GIS to monitor selected KDEs related to the root causes of child labour in Ghana Despite decades of interventions since the ratification of the Harkin Engel Protocol in 2001 to eliminate child labour in the cocoa sectors of Côte d'Ivoire and Ghana the latest progress report shows child labour in this sector is increasing rather than decreasing Sadhu et al 2020 This trend is concerning given the detrimental effects of child labour on children's lives education and health and the perpetuated cycle of poverty as a result To break this trend it is necessary to expand and improve current methods of tracking the incidence of child labour monitoring and explore more sustainable ways to support rural families to keep children out of child labour prevention To that end technology digitalization and digital innovations have a role in poverty reduction and improving living standards in developing countries however political and socio economic problems can hinder these technological fixes With smallholder cocoa producers being the most vulnerable actors within this value chain the implementation of technological monitoring systems is not a clear cut route Participation and engagement depend not only on the perception of the advantages to farmers and community but also on issues that impact the adoption and use of information and communication technologies ICT For example availability affordability and literacy and effective use Regional Conventions on Protection of Human Rights Louis B. International Law Concerning Child Civilians in Armed Conflict

Jenny Kuper, 1997 Each year many thousands of child civilians are killed injured or otherwise physically and psychologically harmed as a result of armed conflicts There is a considerable body of international law which aims to minimise the harm inflicted on these children and yet it is little known or observed This book is the first major international legal text to focus exclusively on child civilians It addresses three main questions 1 what are the precise rules incorporated in the pertinent body of law and what are its implementation mechanisms 2 how effective is it with reference to recent conflicts involving Iraq in helping to achieve some protection for child civilians and 3 can it be rendered more effective The book concludes by proposing a number of strategies to strengthen the impact of the applicable law As the first detailed analysis of the surprisingly large body of law relevant to the treatment of child civilians this book is an important contribution to a topical and highly charged human rights issue
