practice illuminate a promising way in promoting human brain health. This editorial covers a wide range of brain mind body practice forms to summarize recent new findings and development from behavioral physiological neurobiological and psychological science approaches. In this research topic we addressed recent findings from theoretical as well as experimental perspective including contributions under the following three headings: 1 intervention studies to investigate the positive effect of brain mind body practice on cognition and relevant brain mechanism. The intervention pattern consisted of short term practice ranging from few hours to several weeks; 2 cross sectional studies using expert novice paradigm to explore the behavioral and neural system change induced by extensive brain mind body practice; 3 the mediators influence the relationship between practice and health outcomes; and 4 new viewpoints on brain mind body practice from theoretical perspectives. Here we briefly highlight these articles aiming to provide a deep understanding for the association between practice plasticity and health for readers. Additionally it offers new insights for developing possible practice interventions for clinical treatment of neurological dysfunction or disorders.
