Independent Activities for Second Grade Harriet R. Kinghorn, 1990 Linking Competence to Opportunities to Learn Xiufeng Liu, 2009-05-01 For many people a high standard for student learning is desirable. This is what underlies current standard based science education reforms around the world. As someone who was born and brought up in a less privileged home and educated in a resource limited school environment in a developing country I always had to study hard to meet various standards from elementary to high school to university. My first book in English published over 10 years ago Liu X 1996 Mathematics and Science Curriculum Change in the People's Republic of China Lewiston NY The Edwin Mellen Press provided me an opportunity to examine standards i.e. Chinese national science teaching syllabi from a historical and political point of view. I argued that standards are developed for particular political agendas in order to maintain the privileged position of certain groups i.e. urban residents in a society at expenses of others i.e. rural residents. Thus underneath standards is systematic discrimination and injustice. Since then I have had opportunities to study the issue of standards in much more breadth and depth. This book Linking Competence to Opportunities to Learn Models of Competence and data mining provides me an opportunity to examine standards from a different perspective opportunity to learn.
