Elections Monitoring Project ,2001      Prisoners of Freedom Harri Englund,2006-09-12 In this vivid ethnography Harri Englund investigates how ideas of freedom impede struggles against poverty and injustice in emerging democracies Reaching beyond a narrow focus on the national elite Prisoners of Freedom shows how foreign aid and human rights activism hamper the pursuit of democratic citizenship in Africa The book explores how activists aspirations of self improvement pursued under harsh economic conditions find in the human rights discourse a new means to distinguish oneself from the poor masses Among expatriates the emphasis on abstract human rights avoids confrontations with the political and business elites Drawing on long term research among the Malawian poor Englund brings to life the personal circumstances of Malawian human rights activists their expatriate benefactors and the urban and rural poor as he develops a fresh perspective on freedom one that recognizes the significance of debt obligation and civil virtues      Nigeria's 2007 Elections Jibrin

Ibrahim,2007      Catalogue for the Year ... University of Oregon,1932      Governance Reform in Africa Jerome Bachelard,2013-07-24 Poor governance is increasingly recognized as the greatest impediment to economic development in Sub Saharan Africa Currently some impressive governance reforms are underway in many countries This includes cases such as Nigeria formerly the most corrupt country in the world according to Transparency International Yet other countries such as Chad are still in reform deadlock To account for these differences this book examines governance reform in Sub Saharan Africa based on an analysis of international and domestic pressures and counter pressures It develops a four phase model explaining why governance reforms advance in some instances whilst in others governance reforms stagnate or even relapse No study has sought to systematically examine the political forces both international and domestic behind the successful conduct of governance reform in Sub Saharan Africa Yet coordination collaboration and mutual support between international and domestic actors is critical to push individual governments onto the path of reform This book shows that while international and domestic pro reform pressures are important an analysis of anti reform pressures is also necessary to explain incomplete or failed reform The main theoretical arguments are structured around four hypotheses The hypotheses are theoretically generated and tested over four case studies Madagascar Kenya Nigeria and Chad On this basis the good governance socialization process is inductively developed in the concluding chapter This model illustrates how governance practices can evolve positively and negatively in all countries of Sub Saharan Africa based on the nature and relative strength of international and domestic pressures and counter pressures
