

Essay A

Essay A strongly emphasized two facets regarding the use of sirens. Mainly, sirens were seen as temptresses, symbolic for attractive women in society that draw men and represent the temptations of life. Men chase these alluring distractions because they "cannot resist the urge to give into temptation." The second facet the author uses explains that these sirens, representing women, feel pressured to act seductively, ultimately leading them to feel trapped in this niche. The siren feels so trapped that she calls out for help and only wishes to be free of her fate, leading men to their demise with her seductive actions.

This essay was fairly well-developed with very few awkward spots and no mis-readings. This essay presented a clear, flowing introduction but a thesis that seemed to encompass only a few elements the essay actually discussed. The conclusion reiterates a more developed thesis that encompasses nearly all of the actual content and analysis of the essay. The transitions hampered the flow of the essay but the topic sentences echoed back to the thesis. What the author of the essay discussed was well-developed, but the author failed to address the critical turning point in the last envoi that greatly influenced the theme of the poem: changing it from seductive women feeling trapped to relishing in the influence of their power over men. Although the author did not address this, the well-developed content and flowing structure earned this essay a score of 3.

Essay B

Essay B sees the siren's song as a ballad opening her up from isolation to the outside world. The siren seems to implore the reader to give them a response when the poem shifts to second person point-of-view. The siren tempts the audience to give her assistance as she is in distress and feels trapped. The author of Essay B sees the siren's call as a call for help. The siren's secret, as discussed by the author of Essay B, is that she needs help.

The piece takes an interesting stance that is moderately developed with direct evidence. The essay often references the word "theme" but never seems to clearly state that theme. The thesis seems to relate to very few elements of the analysis itself. The topic sentences flow but do not relate to the thesis itself. The analysis of the essay is very focused but occasionally adds extraneous details that are good analytically, but do not relate to the focus of the essay. One element that was particularly suited to the analysis was the changing points of view in the poem, which the author incorporated very well. The focus of this essay, the development, and the sometimes awkward phrasing and structure earned it an overall score of 4.
