The Love Letter, Jean Honoré Fragonard, 1778, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

Jean Honoré Fragonard's The Love Letter is a frivolous Rococo painting from the early 1770s. The painting shows a young woman at a desk in what seems to be her bedroom, tightly grasping a letter and bouquet of flowers. The work is composed of bright, pastel colors, loose brushstrokes, and a central focused use of space that work together to create a unified image.

Upon first gazing at this painting, one is captivated by the bright gold colors surrounding this mysterious woman. The ray of sunshine coming through the window creates a line that immediately puts the viewer's focus on the young woman, making one wonder what she is thinking. Her eyes, being focused on the viewer, along with her coy smile create a mildly sensual feeling. It seems as though she is inviting us in, but her firm grasp on her flowers and letter suggest a level of reluctance. While this could simply be because she wants privacy, it could also be because her letter and flowers are from someone she doesn't want anyone to know about. The expression on her face is flirty and suggestive, hinting that she might have something to hide. While it is difficult to discern the purpose of the dog lying behind her, his expression is definitely not inviting. Rather than being shown sleeping peacefully, the dog has his head raised and paw positioned as if he is in a protective kind of state. This, combined with her expression, make it seem as though this is not an innocent situation, but instead more sensual and risqué.

Picturing Art History Ingrid Vermeulen, 2025-10-01 Books on art history are nearly always lavishly illustrated with quality colour reproductions of famous masterpieces Yet this has not always been the case it was only in the eighteenth century that art books came to be illustrated with beautiful images Picturing Art History shows how the fundamentally new notion of the history of art as a visual history was responsible for this development In the age before photography paper collections of prints and drawings offered the only way to picture the artistic past For the first time illustrations became indispensable tools as the new belief grew that art works rather than artists were the measure of the artistic past Internationally renowned art scholars such as Bottari 1689 1775 Winckelmann 1717 1768 and d Agincourt 1730 1814 collected reproductions in the form of prints and drawings triggering discussions of the nature of illustrations as representations of art classification of reproductions to demonstrate trends in art history and the relationship between image and text in the art literature With the help of illustrations art history became an extraordinary visual experience vital to the understanding of the history of art
