

Whales are mammals. They live in the ocean. They can hold their breath for a long time under the water. When they come to the top, they use their blowholes to take the air. Whales are very large. Some whales are 100 feet long. They eat plankton. Other whales eat large fish. Who is the largest whale?

Teaching Reading Comprehension to Students with Learning Difficulties Sharon Vaughn, Alison Boardman, Janette K. Klingner, 2024-06-25 Now in a revised and expanded third edition this important resource helps teachers understand how good readers comprehend text and how best to support students who are struggling. It presents effective instructional methods for learners at all grade levels including those with reading disabilities. Every chapter translates state of the art research into practical classroom applications. All facets of comprehension are addressed including assessment, vocabulary, background knowledge and text structure. Chapters also cover English learners, intensive intervention and content literacy. Utility as a teacher guide and course text is enhanced by sample lesson plans, graphic organizers and chapter opening study questions. New to This Edition: Chapter on text selection and text structure; Chapter on teachers frequently asked questions providing specific actionable advice. More than twice as many sample lesson plans. Revised throughout with the latest research and teaching techniques.

Bilingual Special Education for the 21st Century: A New Interface Colón, Gliset, Alsace, Tamara O., 2022-05-13 Bilingual students with disabilities have an established right to be educated in their most proficient language. However, in practice, many culturally and linguistically diverse students still do not receive the quality of education that they are promised and deserve. Multilingual learners with disabilities must be acknowledged for the assets they bring and engaged in classroom learning that is rigorous and relevant. Bilingual Special Education for the 21st Century: A New Interface addresses the complex intersection of bilingual education and special education with the overlay of culturally and linguistically sustaining practices. This work provides practical solutions to current dilemmas and challenges today's educators of multilingual learners with disabilities face in the classroom. Covering topics such as dual language education identification practices and transition planning, this book is an essential resource for special education experts, faculty and administration of both K-12 and higher education, pre-service teachers, researchers and academicians.

Doing Language Arts in Morning Meeting Jodie Luongo, Joan Riordan, Kate Umstatter, 2015-02-12 Boost students' language arts skills and meet standards without adding to your schedule. Do you start the day with Morning Meeting? If so, you can use some of that time to reinforce students' language arts learning. These fun, lively activities enable you to seamlessly integrate language arts into a daily Morning Meeting. You'll find language arts activities for each component of Morning Meeting: greeting, sharing group activity, and morning message. From reading poetry with sound effects to pantomiming idioms to guessing which character someone is describing, these activities are varied, challenging, and confidence building. Features that make them easy to use: Clear step-by-step directions; Can be used with any curriculum; Few or no materials required; Variations and extensions for language arts lessons; Activities sorted by grade but can be adapted for any grade. This book helps you inspire students' interest in language arts and give them practice in key skills all while enriching and enlivening your Morning Meetings.
