Using body positions is one of the best ways to change up an episode. Here are some ways to do this, and what they can do for your story.

It's easy to focus on a story's characters and settings, but it's also important to focus on the body positions of the characters. This is because body positions can tell a story, and that's what makes them so great for writing.

Standing	Up	Up	Up

These are different body positions, and they can tell a story.

For example, if a character is standing with their hands on their hips, it might mean they're angry or confident.
