The Educator's Handbook for Teaching With Primary Sources

Scott M. Waring, 2023. Educators across subject areas are striving to integrate primary sources into their pedagogy and teaching. Yet despite their importance to authentic disciplined inquiry, the implementation of primary source activities in the pre-K-12 classroom has been limited. This lack of utilization can largely be attributed to the perception that these activities are too complex to design, implement, and grade. Many teachers also feel that primary source analysis and the construction of evidence-based narratives is too difficult for students to complete in the traditional classroom. Waring argues that this is not the case and with this handbook provides teacher candidates and inservice teachers with detailed and specific perspectives, activities, approaches, and resources to help them effectively and authentically use primary sources in their classrooms. Book Features: Introduces teaching with primary sources including detailed examples of authentic and tested instructional ideas and approaches. Designed to meet the needs of classroom teachers and teacher candidates in social studies, English, and language arts, mathematics, science, and other fields. Offers dozens of primary sources and links to resources throughout the book. Aligns to national standards, frameworks, and the C3 framework for social studies. Can be used to meet the needs of emerging English learners and students with special needs. Focuses on ways in which educators are utilizing a variety of emerging technologies to engage students in deeper and more authentic ways of learning. Contributors include Peter DeCraene, Lisa Fink, Eric J. Pyle, Stefanie R. Wager, Sarah Westbrook, and Trena L. Wilkerson.

Preparing to Teach Social Studies for Social Justice (Becoming a Renegade) Ruchi Agarwal-Rangnath, Alison G. Dover, Nick Henning, 2016. This practical book shows how veteran justice-oriented social studies teachers are responding to the Common Core State Standards, focusing on how they build curriculum, support students' literacy skills, and prepare students to think and act critically within and beyond the classroom. In order to provide direct classroom-to-classroom insights, the authors draw on letters written by veteran teachers addressed to new teachers entering the field. The first section of the book introduces the three approaches teachers can take for teaching for social justice within the constraints of the Common Core State Standards embracing reframing or resisting the standards The second section analyzes specific approaches to teaching the Common Core using teacher narratives to illustrate key processes The final section demonstrates how teachers develop support and sustain their identities as justice oriented educators in standards driven classrooms Each chapter includes exemplary lesson plans drawn from diverse grades and classrooms and offers concrete recommendations to guide practice Book Features Offers advice from experienced educators who have learned to successfully navigate the constraints of high stakes testing and standards based mandates Shares and analyzes curricular and pedagogical approaches to teaching the Common Core including lesson plans teachers can use in their own classrooms Examines a range of philosophical and political stances that teachers might take as they navigate the unique demands of teaching for social justice in their own context This inspiring book invites us into conversations that cannot help but to make our teaching more collective impactful and profound Kevin Kumashiro University of San Francisco This is a must read book for practicing and aspiring educators interested in learning how to teach justice oriented critical social studies Brian D Schultz Northeastern Illinois University At a time of increasing pressure on teachers this book provides practical approaches from teachers for teachers to teach within the confines of the Common Core without compromising rigor integrity or social justice Tyrone C Howard director UCLA Black Male Institute UCLA
