Southeast European Studies in a Globalizing World Christian Promitzer, Siegfried Gruber, Harald Heppner, 2014 Since the early 1990s Southeast European studies have undergone profound changes being shaped by the wars of Yugoslav succession and the ramifications of post socialism coupled with democratic deficiencies which characterize most of Southeast Europe. The countries which it encompasses rest uneasily on the periphery of the developed variant of Western capitalism but they have nonetheless to contend with the challenges of adjusting to a market economy. The imprint of these contexts on academic research has led to a discussion of the role of Southeast European studies. It is the task of this volume to summarize and raise awareness of this discussion. Series: Studies on South East Europe Vol 16 Subject: European Studies Sociology Politics

Jan-David Blaese, 2012-05-30 Master's Thesis from the year 2011 in the subject Politics Topic European Union grade 1 7 University of Bonn language English abstract Power is shifting at the global level but it is doing so unevenly across different dimensions The statement of Giovanni Grevi describes the phenomenon of power shift Such shifts happened multiple times throughout history But they do not occur frequently and are often connected with use of force At present there is a power shift from the western industrialized states e g from member states of the European Union EU to Asian states in particular China This shift builds on the fast economic growth of the emerging countries Yet in spite of this growth it is disputed to what extent the rise of these economies already transcended into power and how it will develop in the future The recent global financial and economic crisis was the worst one in post World War II history because it led to an economic downturn with unprecedented global depth The crisis emerged in the United States US and then spread to the EU and as well to other countries It led to steeply rising public debt levels in western industrialized states Many scholars like Giovanni Grevi and Roger C Altman are of the opinion that the crisis accelerated the recent shift of power During this course of time states like China or India extended their participation within global economic governance foras such as the International Monetary Fund IMF or the G20 This raises the question how the power of the European Union within these international institutions was affected by the crisis The purpose of this thesis is to research this question

L'industrie de la construction au

XXe siècle: une comparaison internationale vue sous l'angle de l'entreprise Revue Française d'Histoire Économique - The french economic history review N°1,2014-09-01 L'Industrie de la construction constitue un secteur stratégique pour l'économie mondiale notamment en matière d'emplois. Jusqu'en 2007, les firmes mondiales dominantes ont été européennes. Dans le bâtiment et le génie civil, Vinci, Bouygues, Hochtief, ACS et Skanska. Dans les ciments, Lafarge, Holcim, Heidelberg Cement et Italcementi. Dans les autres matériaux, Saint Gobain, Wollseley. Il est donc intéressant de se interroger sur les facteurs explicatifs de cette domination historique. De fait, ce leadership européen puisé son origine dans une convergence de facteurs favorables mais se révèle de plus en plus fragile face à la concurrence des pays émergents : Japon et Corée du Sud, puis Chine, Brésil et Mexique. Parliamentary Debates (Hansard), Great Britain, Parliament, House of Commons, 2013. UCLA Pacific Basin Law Journal, 2012. Design Issues, 2011. The Economist, 2012. Science, 2011. The Literary Review, 2011.
