Keep soil alive, protect soil biodiversity Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2021-11-25 The proceedings book of the GSOBI21 contains all papers presented both orally and in poster format during the symposium. The papers have provided sufficient scientific evidence that the loss of soil biodiversity is a global threat and shows the place we are standing on and where we need to go to prevent soil biodiversity loss and to reinforce knowledge about soil biodiversity.

Neuroethics Judy Illes, Sharmin Hossain, 2017 Over the last decade there have been unparalleled advances in our understanding of brain sciences. In this volume on neuroethics a distinguished group of contributors from a range of disciplines discuss the ethical implications of this newfound knowledge and set out the many necessary considerations for the future.

The Carbon Fix Stephanie Paladino, Shirley J Fiske, 2016-11-18 Given the growing urgency to develop global responses to a changing climate. The Carbon Fix examines the social and equity dimensions of putting the world's forests and necessarily the rural people who manage and depend on them at the center of climate policy efforts such as REDD intended to slow global warming. The book assesses the implications of international policy approaches that focus on forests as carbon and especially forest carbon offsets for rights justice and climate governance. Contributions from leading anthropologists and geographers analyze a growing trend towards market principles and financialization of nature in environmental governance placing it into conceptual critical and historical context. The book then challenges perceptions of forest carbon initiatives through in depth field based case studies assessing projects policies and procedures at various scales from informed consent to international carbon auditing. While providing a mixed assessment of the potential for forest carbon initiatives to balance carbon with social goals the authors present compelling evidence for the complexities of the carbon offset enterprise fraught with competing interests and interpretations at multiple scales and having unanticipated and often deleterious effects on the resources and rights of the world's poorest peoples especially indigenous and rural peoples. The Carbon Fix provides nuanced insights into political economic and ethical issues associated with climate change policy. Its case approach and fresh perspective are critical to environmental professionals development planners and project managers and to students in upper level undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental anthropology and geography environmental and policy studies international development and indigenous studies.

Visible-near Infrared Spectroscopy in Cytology Differentiation and Quantification Birthing Suhainah Sudik, Ahmad Fairuz Omar, Azman Seen, 2024-10-15 Visible and near infrared known as VIS-NIR spectroscopy has emerged as a highly promising alternative to conventional laborious wet chemistry methods for qualitative and quantitative analysis of samples. VIS-NIR spectroscopy has successfully been employed in the analysis of a wide variety of applications from food quality analysis to environmental monitoring medical diagnosis and even in arts and archaeology. This book presents the state of the art method for profiling cancerous cells using the VIS-NIR spectra between 400 nm and 1100 nm. What makes our book truly exceptional The cell culture techniques spectroscopic experimental setup and statistical methods are presented in detail conveniently allowing readers to replicate the study In this book the study was specifically conducted on mouse skin fibroblast L929 human cervix adenocarcinoma HeLa and human prostate carcinoma DU145 cell lines These cell selections are commonly used in cytotoxicity anti cancer antiproliferative and diagnosis research Whether you're a student specializing in cell studies or a researcher immersed in optical based instrumentation and measurement techniques this book is your essential companion for success
