Fundamentals of the Analytical Mechanics of Shells Nikolai Aleksandrovich Kil'chevskii, 1965      Noniterative Coordination in Multilevel Systems Todor Stoilov, 2012-12-06 Multilevel decision theory arises to resolve the contradiction between increasing requirements towards the process of design synthesis control and management of complex systems and the limitation of the power of technical control computer and other executive devices which have to perform actions and to satisfy requirements in real time This theory rises suggestions how to replace the centralised management of the system by hierarchical co ordination of sub processes All sub processes have lower dimensions which support easier management and decision making But the sub processes are interconnected and they influence each other Multilevel systems theory supports two main methodological tools decomposition and co ordination Both have been developed and implemented in practical applications concerning design control and management of complex systems In general it is always beneficial to find the best or optimal solution in processes of system design control and management The real tendency towards the best optimal decision requires to present all activities in the form of a definition and then the solution of an appropriate optimization problem Every optimization process needs the mathematical definition and solution of a well stated optimization problem These problems belong to two classes static optimization and dynamic optimization Static optimization problems are solved applying methods of mathematical programming conditional and unconditional optimization Dynamic optimization problems are solved by methods of variation calculus Euler Lagrange method maximum principle dynamical programming

Proceedings of the IEEE Workshop on Nonlinear Dynamics of Electronic Systems Gianluca Setti, Riccardo Rovatti, Gianluca Mazzini, 2000 This volume collects together state of the art contributions to the IEEE workshop on Nonlinear Dynamics of Electronic Systems      Antennas Boris Levin, 2024-12-26 This book describes both known and new results In the sections devoted to the use of integral equations for the current in a linear metal radiator the focus is on Leontovich s equation An advantage of this equation is the simplicity of the solution and the absence of the argument in it because the integration over already performed The refined solution makes it possible to determine the total sum of the series for the current which is close to the known solution including only the first terms The results of the synthesis of different types of antennas with capacitive loads are presented which makes it possible to implement Hallen s hypothesis about the usefulness of applying such loads to create an in phase current distribution in antennas and to obtain required characteristics New results include the widespread use of the complex potential method in relation to the calculation of capacitive structures in homogeneous and inhomogeneous media antenna patterns and flows of electrical fields between antenna elements and in the surrounding space In particular the analysis of field flows makes it possible to substantiate a rigorous method for analyzing microstrip antennas The characteristics of antennas in various conditions of their installation are considered and compared The results of the use of multi floors structures that provide in the wide frequency range the radiation in direction perpendicular to the antenna axis and structures that make it possible to reduce the mutual influence of antennas located at different heights on a common mast are described      Complex Analysis with MATHEMATICA® William T.
