Preliminary Evaluation of Wind and Wave Effects at Potential LNG Terminal Sites, State of California Lyndell Z.

Hales,1978 The California Legislature decreed that the California Coastal Commission had until 1 February 1978 to identify evaluate and rank alternate potential Liquefied Natural Gas LNG Terminal sites on the California coast Because of the Corps experience in various aspects of such studies the U S Army Engineer Waterways Experiment Station was requested by the Coastal Commission to assist particularly in the use of existing hindcast data to evaluate possible effects of wind and waves on the docking and unloading of a LNG tanker The effect of wind and wave climate was relatively evaluated at 26 potential LNG terminal sites along the coast of California The analysis did not apply wave refraction theory at any of the sites so the absolute magnitudes of the values obtained at each site are subject to refinement The computations which were performed were optimized on a site specific basis i e they have been determined by utilizing the situations unique to that one particular location and the results should not be extrapolated far beyond the respective site if at all Resources in Education ,1998

Environment Reporter , Government Contracts Herman R. Holtz,2012-12-06 He who knows and knows that he knows is wise follow him ANCIENT PROVERB During a long career of public service as a government procurement and contracting official I am still surprised to find big successful corporations making the same mistakes that neophytes in government contracting mak And this is particularly true in the matter of writing proposals which are the crucial element in most major procurement awards It s true enough as many suspect that the big well known company has something of an edge over the smaller lesser known company com peting for any given government contract psychologically at least The typical government executives whether contracting officials or program managers tend to have a bit more faith in the ability of the large company to carry out the program successfully All things being equal then the big company is more likely to get the nod However because the large companies are well aware of that many tend to become fat dumb and happy they try to coast or rest on their laurels That is they get careless about making a strong enough case for themselves in writing their proposals And when they lose often to smaller companies they are both puzzled and outraged They have for gotten that all government procurement is a competition usually both technical and cost competition and that the little guy can win against the big guy if he tries hard enough And especially if the bigger guy is a bit careless and does not put out his best effort
