1. What is the purpose of the study?
 The purpose of the study is to investigate the effect of the use of the Internet on the learning of English as a second language (ESL) in a classroom setting.

2. What is the research design?
 The research design is a quasi-experimental design.

3. What are the variables?
 The independent variable is the use of the Internet. The dependent variable is the learning of English as a second language.

4. What are the results?
 The results of the study show that the use of the Internet has a positive effect on the learning of English as a second language.

5. What are the conclusions?
 The conclusion of the study is that the use of the Internet is an effective tool for learning English as a second language.

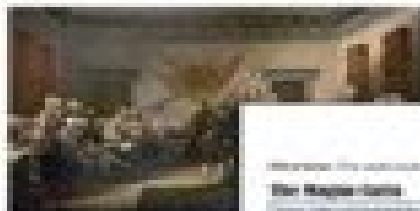

According to the author, the research on the relationship between the two variables has been the subject of a number of studies. The results of these studies have been inconsistent. The author suggests that the relationship between the two variables may be more complex than previously thought. The author also suggests that the relationship may be different for different groups of people. The author concludes that the relationship between the two variables is still a topic that needs to be explored further.

The above is a list of the 100 most important works in the field of the history of the United States. The list is based on the following criteria: (1) the work's contribution to the field; (2) the work's influence on other scholars; (3) the work's originality; (4) the work's clarity; (5) the work's accessibility to the general public. The list is not intended to be exhaustive, but rather to provide a starting point for further research.

Chengdu—China's first major rail crossing, scheduled to open in 2005, may not facilitate trade. Although the 100-km stretch of 1,000-tonne freight containers loaded, only two containers (one for the Chinese and one for the U.S.) were loaded. The rest of the containers were empty. "I don't know why," says a U.S. Customs official. "They are not used to it."

The effects of a 10-minute intervention program using stories as a health communication tool on knowledge, attitude and behaviour of 1000 school children in a rural community in Bangladesh are being studied by researchers from the Bangladesh Health Research Institute (BHRI) and the Bangladesh Health Research Institute (BHRI) and the Bangladesh Health Research Institute (BHRI).
