Handbook of Research on Protecting and Managing Global Indigenous Knowledge Systems Tshifhumulo, Rendani, Makhanikhe, Tshimangadzo Justice, 2021-10-08 Indigenous knowledge systems IKS are a combination of knowledge systems encompassing technology social economic and philosophical learning or educational legal and governance systems The lack of documentation of these systems presents a problem as the knowledge is fading away over time In response it is essential that policies and strategies are undertaken to ensure that these systems are protected and sustained for generations to come The Handbook of Research on Protecting and Managing Global Indigenous Knowledge Systems is a comprehensive reference source that works to preserve indigenous knowledge systems through research Focusing on key concepts such as tools of indigenous knowledge management and African indigenous symbols the book preserves and promotes indigenous knowledge through research and fills the void staff and students within the field of indigenous knowledge systems face with the current lack of research and resources This book is ideal for university students lecturers researchers academicians policymakers historians sociologists and anyone interested in the field of indigenous knowledge systems

Inclusive Businesses in Agriculture Wytse Chamberlain, Ward Anseeuw, 2017-03-30 Inclusive business is hailed as a win win scenario for the development of poor communities yet there is little insight into how these inclusive businesses work and more importantly for whom This book aims for a thorough understanding of the range of inclusive businesses in agriculture by examining the structures they implement the actors involved and whether they are effectively inclusive of smallholders It presents a range of case studies and is therefore empirically based and practically oriented By offering a critical assessment of inclusive businesses overall it allows for a better perception of what works where and under which conditions It provides useful insights that will benefit smallholders agri businesses support groups policy makers and investors who are willing to promote more inclusive businesses that foster a better integration of smallholders into commercial value chains and a more equitable and sustainable agricultural sector

Climate change, land, water and food security: Perspectives from sub-saharan africa Mulala Danny Simatele, Felix Kwabena Donkor, Henry Bikwibili Tantoh, 2023-06-22

Chinese Investment in Africa Freedom Mazwi, George T. Mudimu, Kirk Helliker, 2024-03-01 This edited volume systematically interrogates the Chinese investment presence in Africa focusing on land and agriculture mining and other infrastructural projects In doing so the form and extent of Chinese debt will be brought into perspective with comparisons made to investments in Africa emanating from metropolitan capitalism The volume examines the development potential of these investments by focusing on the labour regimes created and the effects of investments on the land based agricultural livelihoods of the African peasantry This entails the use of a political economy approach which incorporates the state international actors and local communities into the analysis with gender dynamics also of great significance Overall the contributions in this volume focus on an array of African nations with a specific focus on Zimbabwe and they deploy a large wealth of primary field based data collected over a number of years by established and emerging scholars living and working on the continent

Dietary Supplements, Botanicals and Herbs at The Interface of Food and Medicine Alessandra Durazzo, Massimo Lucarini, Michael Heinrich, 2022-07-28

Water is Life Hellum, Anne, Kameri-Mbote, Patricia, 2015-10-19

This book approached water and sanitation as an African gender and human rights issue Empirical case studies from Kenya Malawi South Africa and Zimbabwe show how coexisting international national and local regulations of water and sanitation respond to the ways in which different groups of rural and urban women gain access to water for personal domestic and livelihood purposes The authors who are lawyers sociologists political scientists and anthropologists explore how women cope in contexts where they lack secure rights and participation in water governance institutions formal and informal The research shows how women as producers of family food rely on water from multiple sources that are governed by community based norms and institutions which recognise the right to water for livelihood How these common pool water resources due to protection gaps in both international and national law are threatened by large scale development and commercialisation initiatives facilitated through national permit systems is a key concern The studies demonstrate that existing water governance structures lack mechanisms which make them accountable to poor and vulnerable water users on the ground most importantly women The findings thus underscore the need to intensify measures to hold states accountable not just in water services provision but in assuring the basic human right to clean drinking water and sanitation and also to protect water for livelihoods

New Directions in Agrarian Political Economy Ryan Isakson, 2017-10-02

How relevant are the classic theories of agrarian change in the contemporary context This volume explores this question by focusing upon the defining features of agrarian transformation in the 21st century the financialization of food and agriculture the blurring of rural and urban livelihoods through migration and other economic activities forest transition climate change rural indebtedness the co evolution of social policy and moral economies and changing property relations Combined the eleven contributions to this collection provide a broad overview of agrarian studies over the past four decades and identify the contemporary frontiers of agrarian political economy In this path breaking collection the authors show how new iterations of long evident processes continue to catch peasants and smallholders in the crosshairs of crises and how many manage to face these challenges developing new sources and sites of livelihood production This volume was published as part one of the special double issue celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Journal of Peasant Studies

Recent transformations in agrifood systems have created new technical requirements and compliance costs that make it increasingly difficult for resource poor farmers to access modern market channels In this respect the question of whether contract farming can be an effective institutional mechanism to address this issue stands out as one of special relevance This book aims to typify the extent to which contract farming is helping small farmers to access markets and meet stringent requirements of manufacturers retailers exporters and service firms from both food and non food sectors such as biofuels and forestry It seeks to clarify differences in the functionality of contracts depending on commodity market technology public policies and country circumstances Conceptual issues are discussed and real world case study appraisals from developing regions are presented The issues raised in the case studies and the key messages synthesized in the initial chapter bring new insights and contributions to further enrich knowledge on contract farming as a tool for inclusive market access in developing countries Publisher s description
