Coastal State Jurisdiction over Living Resources in the Exclusive Economic Zone Camille Goodman, 2021-11-15
Under the 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea coastal States have sovereign rights to explore exploit conserve and manage the living resources of the 200 nautical mile exclusive economic zone EEZ However 40 years after the adoption of the Convention there is still a great deal of uncertainty about the nature and extent of these sovereign rights Coastal State Jurisdiction over Living Resources in the Exclusive Economic Zone examines the ways in which coastal States can exercise authority on the basis of their sovereign rights over living resources in the EEZ Dr Camille Goodman explores the key concepts of fishing and fishing related activities to establish what vessels and which activities can be regulated by coastal States canvasses the criteria and conditions that coastal States can apply as part of regulating foreign access to their resources and considers the regulation of unlicensed foreign fishing vessels in transit through the EEZ Goodman also examines how such regulations can be enforced within the EEZ and the circumstances under which enforcement can take place beyond the EEZ following hot pursuit A review and analysis of the practice of 145 States identifies the contemporary extent of coastal State jurisdiction over living resources in the EEZ and offers a unique fresh perspective on the underlying and enduring nature of that jurisdiction Underpinned by a rigorous examination of the Convention jurisprudence and literature as well as being supported by carefully documented State practice Coastal State

Jurisdiction over Living Resources in the Exclusive Economic Zone proposes a more predictable framework within which to resolve jurisdictional challenges in the EEZ Federal Register, 2013-09 The Spatial and Economic Transformation of Mountain Regions Manfred Perlik, 2019-01-03 Mountain regions are subject to a unique set of economic pressures they act as collective enterprises which have to valorize rare resources such as spectacular landscapes While primarily rural in nature they often border large cities and the development of industries such as hydroelectric power and the rapid development of tourism can bring about sweeping socio economic change and vast demographic alterations The Spatial and Economic Transformation of Mountain Regions describes the socio economic changes and spatial impacts of the last four decades with the transformation of mountain areas held up as an example Much of the real world context draws on the Alps spanning as they do the significant economies of France Italy Germany Switzerland and Austria Chapters address academic discourse on regional development in these mountain areas and suggest alternative approaches to the liberal productivist societal model This book will be essential reading for professionals institutions and NGOs searching for counter models to the existing marketing approaches for peripheral areas It will also be of interest to students of regional development economic geography environmental studies and industrial economics Adopted Texts Council of Europe.
