

PROJECT 1: INTERPRETING POLITICAL CARTOONS IN THEIR HISTORICAL CONTEXT

A party machine is an organization headed by a boss or a small ruling group that coordinates through votes its members' political and administrative conduct in a city, county or state. This 1917 cartoon published by Thomas Hart Benton satirizes the corruption of political machines that could control entire city political systems. This particular cartoon refers to William "Boss" Tweed and his machine that controlled New York City politics. How has control of political systems via machines changed since the 19th century? How have political party machines and bosses changed since then?

- 1) How did William Tweed gain control for running the City of New York?
He was supported by a coalition of immigrants and wealthy. He used vote buying and his support from Irish.
- 2) How did the political machine by Thomas Hart Benton in the cartoon work?
It worked fairly, working along with political machines.
- 3) How was Tweed's power over the political party a political machine?
directly managing
- 4) Explain how the cartoon reflects a relationship between a Democratic system of government and a Populist system during the third political party system.
this is related to community class systems and it was in the sense the machine was not in favor of the people.
