The Tiger Paper ,2012 Industrial Engineering, Computation and Information Technologies Prasad Yarlagadda,2014-12-05 Selected peer reviewed papers from the 2014 2nd International Conference on Mechatronics and Information Technology ICMIT 2014 October 18 19 2014 Chongqing China Higher Education Management and Policy ,2012 The Supreme Court of Ghana Law Reports ,2015 The Digitalization of Healthcare Ian P. McLoughlin,Karin Garrety,Rob Wilson,2017-01-19 Electronic health records are widely regarded as the connective tissue of any modern healthcare system For some they represent a dangerous enthusiasm and for others a key enabler of disruptive innovation Many governments have made major policy and financial investments in digitalizing health records but their implementation has frequently run into opposition from doctors had lukewarm responses from patients and raised considerable concerns for privacy advocates and others worried by the security of sensitive health data and the risks of national data bases This book draws upon the concept of orders of worth to reveal the moral dimensions of the medical division of labour and to delve deeper into understanding why electronic records have been so difficult to implement and the sources of opposition to them The authors argue that digitalization disrupts the moral orders which define rights and responsibilities for the sharing and exchanging of patient medical data This is illustrated through longitudinal studies of two of the most controversial attempts to introduce national systems a patient controlled electronic record in Australia and a national summary care record that was part of the ill fated NHS national program for IT in England The authors conclude by using the lessons from these national experiences and insights from two regional projects in each country to suggest how the idea of electronic records might be rethought It is a must read for anyone concerned about health information and the implications of how it is shared and exchanged in a digital world Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Economic and Environmental Regulation of International Aviation Steven Truxal,2016-12-01 The core structure of the regulatory regime for international civil aviation the Chicago System is inter national The features of the Chicago System were designed in an era when the world s airlines were State owned and the most pressing international concerns were for navigation and safety regulation Economic liberalization and intense globalization since the Second World War have impacted on the industry today it is global This book observes the developing governance of global aviation taking into account the concepts of sovereignty jurisdiction and territoriality and the proliferation of actors and participants as partners in a global public policy network to posit that an upgraded system of global governance for civil aviation helps to explain the emerging complex landscape for global governance of civil aviation As evidence of the emerging complex matrix of governance of global aviation this book identifies and reviews a selection of contemporary transnational economic and environmental challenges facing the globalized aviation sector e g fair competition safeguards consumer protection noise pollution and greenhouse gas emissions and the respective legal and policy actions taken at national level United Arab Emirates Qatar and People s Republic of China regional level the European Union and international level UN Framework Convention on Climate Change and International Civil Aviation Organization The book concludes that economic and environmental regulation of international aviation designed for an inter national world of yesterday evolves into global governance of aviation which is more suited for today s global world This book will be of particular interest to scholars and practitioners of aviation law competition law and environmental law as well as in the areas of transnational law global governance and international relations The Quarterly Review of Economics and Finance ,2014

U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings United States Naval Institute,2014 Denver Journal of International Law and Policy ,2014 Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office USA Patent Office,1931 The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change Labour Markets, Institutions and Inequality Janine Berg,2015 Labour market institutions including collective bargaining the regulation of employment contracts and pension and other social protection policies are instrumental for improving the well being of workers and their families as well as societies Yet in many countries these institutions have been eroded in other countries they do not exist This edited volume examines the importance of these institutions for ensuring equitable income distribution including with empirical examples from both developed and developing countries It also analyses the connections between macroeconomic policies and inequality as well as how specific groups women migrant workers youths are affected by labour market institutions Parliamentary Debates India.
