

A poem for the Spotlight dancers

We had a visit from Spotlight dancers today
They took our moods to a dizzy height
They floated like colourful butterflies
They danced and pranced around the room
As they danced the music boomed
The dancers turned into acrobats
Which reminded me of the musical Cats
We really did enjoy your show
And were very sad to see you go
Please come another day
And treat us to a fine display
Thanks you

A Merry Dance Poem:

The Merry Dance Raymond Evans, 2019-11-11 Each of these fifty seven offerings is a tone poem that condenses intensely personal impressions into gems of language accessible and inviting surpassing the writer's previous engrossing collection. The volume flows. The language is so vivid the imagery so palpable that the individual pieces spring from the page. They communicate rejoice and recount without artifice openly and clearly. Evans is to be envied. Enda Bracken multimedia educator, storyteller and historian. Raymond Evans writes poems of fragile memories from childhood onwards that unravel into tiny little wonderful worlds. Read them out loud. There is beauty in the weight of the words the way they reveal the persona of the writer the way they unfurl around the tongue. An exciting contribution to Evans's development as an Australian poet of promise. Janelle Evans artist writer film maker. Raymond's second book of autobiographical poems covers a broad sweep. Equipped with remarkable memory and a clear observant eye even as a child he recalls life in all its hues family friends lovers heroes and villains the best and worst that it has thrown his way. Imagining the writer carefully weighing each word here I look forward to volume three as the poet with his merry band of dancers continues his journey with all its sidetracks upon the long road of life. Evans leaves us crying for more. Bruce Hawker political commentator writer campaigner. The poetic style is uniquely passionate entertaining and unflinching in its honesty. Raymond succeeds in taking his readers even deeper with this latest work catapulting us into a diverse and vivid dance of time. Oh what a trip this is in a variety of styles that never disappoint from childhood wanderlust to authentic historical stories that are compelling and unapologetically raw. There is fun here turbulent times and warm hearted reflections a seamless and quintessential treasury of poetry. Catherine Holdsworth poet singer. Raymond Evans is a poet with historical eyes. He gathers up our pasts with his own youth and childhood the old world and the new in jewelled notes that remain long after reading. This is a gorgeous book. Kris Olsson novelist biographer essayist. Merry Dance James G. Riley, 2018-04-15 Includes 33 colored illustrations. Join James in a Merry Dance. Step lightly from the picturesque mountains of England's Lake District to the enduring Great Pyramid of Ancient Egypt. Before you start your journey. Check at the end of your garden for fairies and dragons. Look under flowerpots turned upside down for pebbles or stones. Ensure there is no container of water harboring frogspawn. During your travel. Find the time to visit the Library of Congress in Washington D C. Explore a ghost town in New Jersey. Avoid an icebound prison planet located in a distant galaxy. Do not hold a conversation with brown bears. Do not bring home samples of tree fungus. Hide under the covers when things go bump in the night.
