A Map of Betrayal Ha Jin, 2014-11-04 A Christian Science Monitor Best Book of the Year From the award winning author of Waiting for War a riveting tale of espionage and conflicted loyalties that spans half a century in the entwined histories of two countries China and the United States and two families When Lilian Shang born and raised in America discovers her father's diary after the death of her parents she is shocked by the secrets it contains She knew that her father Gary convicted decades ago of being a mole in the CIA was the most important Chinese spy ever caught But his diary an astonishing chronicle of his journey as a Communist intelligence agent reveals the pain and longing that his double life entailed and point to a hidden second family that he'd left behind in China As Lilian follows her father's trail back into the Chinese provinces she begins to grasp the extent of his dilemma he is a man torn between loyalty to his motherland and the love he came to feel for his adopted country She sees how his sense of duty distorted his life and as she starts to understand that Gary too had been betrayed Lilian finds that it is up to her to prevent his tragedy from endangering yet another generation of Shang's A stunning portrait of a multinational family and an unflinching inquiry into the meaning of citizenship patriotism and home A Map of Betrayal is a spy novel that only Ha Jin could write

Transpacific Cartographies Melody Yunzi Li, 2023-12-15 Transpacific Cartographies examines how contemporary Chinese diasporic narratives address the existential loss of home for immigrant communities at a time of global precarity and amid rising Sino-US tensions Melody Li argues that the characters in these stories create multilayered maps that transcend the territorial boundaries that make finding a home in foreign land a seemingly impossible task

The Book of Common Betrayals Lynne Knight, 2002 Poetry Lynne Knight's first book won a Quarterly Review of Literature prize in 1996 Her second full length collection has won the Dorothy Brunsman Poetry Prize for 2002 In it Knight explores the idea that betrayal whether a violation of trust or an unwitting revelation is part of our inheritance as humans In poems fueled by a combination of passion and panic Knight disarms us only to expand our vision She turns the inner world outward and exposes what we've kept secret sometimes even from ourselves These are driven poems uttered in the heart's vernacular
