inside story of a principal in the DC charter school system reveals much about the desire for educators and students to experience more than a life of multiple choice testing that tends to be so commonplace in these schools. While such a case adds to the mound of research that supports the change, it takes time. Findings it nevertheless demonstrates the reality on a day-to-day basis of what's worth fighting for in schools. Student and teacher engagement and empowerment matter, and to get to such ends a school must fiercely focus on targets well beyond test scores. This book speaks about how a budget reveals school values and by shifting resources to support staff and student development, a school coping with regular turnover can be filled with more confident and capable community members. A school crawling with leaders emerged as more student, teacher, and non-instructional staff were supported in new roles aimed at building an inspired culture with the talent and capacity to move others to action. The old ways of doing school do not address the needs of the 21st century learner, and while many forces with limited views of education were at play, this story does provide an example of what promising things can and should happen to increase engagement and learning in more charter schools across America. Dr. Barbara Smith's narrative of her times in public charter schools offers all of us insights into the struggle to create schools of high academic quality and compassionate care worthy of her educational mandate and mission. David Booth, Professor Emeritus, The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, University of Toronto. Dr. Smith's message inspires me to be an advocate for education and her work will inspire you as well. Jalen Rose, Chair of Board of Directors, Jalen Rose Leadership Academy, Detroit, Michigan. ESPN Commentator. This inside look provides an opportunity for innovation in a field that has held to aging standards for far too long. Diane C. Manica, Former Director, Leadership and Accreditation, University of Detroit Mercy.

8 Qualities of Successful School Leaders Jeremy Sutcliffe, 2013-09-29. Imagine you were cast adrift on a desert island with a school full of children in desperate need of a great headteacher. What eight qualities would you take with you to run your desert island school? In this inspirational book, some of the UK's most successful headteachers answer this question, talking openly about what it takes to effectively manage a school today. In candid and moving accounts, we hear how they have both turned around failing schools and improved outstanding schools. Their thoughts from vision to courage and resilience form the 8 key qualities which are examined in depth through the book. This is not a book about government-led initiatives, top-down models, or politically motivated attempts to change the way schools are managed. Instead, it focuses on the vital leadership ingredients that successful heads say work for them. It offers essential insights and advice into the challenges of running a school successfully and will be a source of inspiration for all school leaders and anyone thinking about moving into headship.
