Andrés Cárdenas O'Farrill

2011 Transition Unit 06 Lesson 01:

Truth, Denial and Transition Cheryl Lawther,2018-10-08 Truth Denial and Transition Northern Ireland and the Contested Past makes a unique and timely contribution to the transitional justice field In contrast to the focus on truth and those societies where truth recovery has been central to dealing with the aftermath of human rights violations comparatively little scholarly attention has been paid to those jurisdictions whose transition from violent conflict has been marked by the absence or rejection of a formal truth process This book draws upon the case study of Northern Ireland where despite a lengthy debate the question of establishing a formal truth recovery process remains hotly contested The strongest and most vocal opposition has been from unionist political elites loyalist ex combatants and members of the security forces Based on empirical research their opposition is unpicked and interrogated at length throughout this book Critically exploring notions of national imagination and blamelessness the politics of victimhood and the tension between traditions of sacrifice and the fear of betrayal this book is the first substantive effort to concentrate on the opponents of truth recovery rather than its advocates This book will interest those studying truth processes and transitional justice in the fields of Law Politics and Criminology Transitional Justice in Pre-transitional Times Tony Reeler,Eustinah Tarisayi,Prosper Maguchu,2017

Surgery Cohn,Stephen M. Cohn,Steven T. Brower,2012 The esophagus Stomach Small bowel Large bowel Liver Portal hypertension Gallbladder and bile ducts Pancreas Spleen Hernia Endocrine glands Breast Chest wall mediastinum trachea Vascular system Skin and soft tissue Preoperative and postoperative care Transitional Justice and the 'Disappeared' of Northern Ireland Lauren Dempster,2019-06-11 This book employs a transitional justice lens to address the disappearances that occurred during the Northern Ireland conflict or Troubles and the post conflict response to these disappearances Despite an extensive literature around dealing with the past in Northern Ireland as well as a substantial body of scholarship on disappearances in other national contexts there has been little scholarly scrutiny of disappearances in post conflict Northern Ireland Although the Good Friday Agreement brought relative peace to Northern Ireland no provision was made for the establishment of some form of overarching truth and reconciliation commission aimed at comprehensively addressing the legacy of violence Nevertheless a mechanism to recover the remains of the disappeared the Independent Commission for the Location of Victims Remains ICLVR was established and has in fact proven to be quite effective As a result the reactions of key constituencies to the disappearances can be used as a prism through which to comprehensively explore issues of relevance to transitional justice scholars and practitioners Pursuing an interdisciplinary approach and based on extensive empirical research this book provides a multifaceted exploration of the responses of these constituencies to the practice of disappearing It engages with transitional justice themes including silence memory truth acknowledgement and apology Key issues examined include the mobilisation efforts of families of the disappeared efforts by a former non state armed group to address its legacy of violence the utility of a limited immunity mechanism to incentivise information provision and the interplay between silence and memory in the shaping of a collective societal understanding of the disappeared

Transitional Justice in South Asia Tazreena Sajjad, 2013-08-21 Offering a comparative case study of transitional justice processes in Afghanistan and Nepal this book critically evaluates the way the local is consulted in post conflict efforts toward peace and reconciliation It argues that there is a tendency in transitional justice efforts to contain the discussion of the local within religious and cultural parameters thus engaging only with a static local as interpreted by certain local stakeholders Based on data collected through interviews and participant observation carried out in the civil societies of the respective countries this book brings attention to a dynamic local where societal norms evolve and realities on the ground are shaped by shifting power dynamics local hierarchies and inequalities between actors It suggests that the local must be understood as an inter subjective concept the meaning of which is not only an evolving and moving target but also dependent on who is consulted to interpret it to external actors This timely book engages with the divergent range of civil society voices and offers ways to move forward by including their concerns in the efforts to help impoverished war torn societies transition from a state of war to the conditions of peace

Institutional Development and Transition Asya El-Meehy, 2013 Have Arab uprisings opened space for deeper grassroots driven decentralization reforms in the region What are the optimum designs sequencing and models of decentralization for countries in political transition While political discourse in the region uniformly emphasizes reforming State institutions decentralization reform agendas have unfolded along contrasting trajectories across Arab transition countries Both contextual and historical dynamics seem to shape visions for the orientation and pace of decentralization reforms as well as the empirical feasibility of shifting power relations among the various tiers of State administration Drawing on findings from field research and recent analyses this study argues that uprisings have created stronger momentum for revisiting the question of decentralization reforms in Libya and Yemen where the very nature of the State is being redefined compared to the cases of Egypt and Tunisia where all stakeholders agree on preserving the unitary State model. In the latter cases while there is evidence that new advocacy movements focused on reforming local government structures have emerged they have thus far remained elite led. Grassroots activism at local community levels has served to empower new actors who in some cases have been successful at extracting concessions from local authorities. These efforts however predominantly focus on improving access to public services within the existing context of centralized State structures and seem often to have failed to gain the trust of local community members as potential partners in local governance. Building on focus group discussions among working class residents in Greater Cairo and on interviews with Egyptian political elites the study highlights an emerging critical gap between youth expectations and on the other hand the envisioned plans of the political elite. While youth are more likely to demand deeper reforms across all three dimensions of decentralization administrative fiscal and political elites disagree not only on which particular dimensions of reforms should be implemented but also on the urgency of decentralization during early phases of political transformation. The latter's wide range of views reflect deep concerns over political capture by traditional elites weakness of political parties as well as potentially detrimental impacts of reforms on State capacity and the nation State's territorial integrity. The study concludes by drawing lessons from France's successful contract based record of decentralization and presents policy recommendations for countries that have emerged from the Arab uprisings with relatively strong centralized State structures and cohesive national identities.

Publisher's description Cooperation Networks and Economic Development Andrés Cárdenas O'Farrill, 2021-02-11 For most Western audiences Cuba is a touristic paradise stuck in time and virtually detached from world technology networks by the US embargo anything but a hub of industrial innovation and high value added biotechnology. However a closer look reveals more subtle but equally powerful stories that challenge the homogenizing assumptions of conventional economics and open up scope for more sophisticated reflections on Cuban economy and industry. From this kind of enquiry emerges the case of the internationally respected Cuban biotech industry as the most successful case of science and technology policy in the country's economic history. The book takes an interdisciplinary approach exploring issues such as interdependency purpose and history as natural constituencies of the innovation process. It also examines the dynamic and crucial role played by the state in the formation of innovative business enterprises. This book will be of interest to academic researchers in the fields of innovation and economic development.

Programme,2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change Bulletin of the Chemical Society of Japan Nihon Kagakkai,2007 Journal of Developmental Education ,2017

Dynamic Industrial Policy in Africa United Nations. Economic Commission for Africa,2014 For millions of Africans growth is yet to translate into jobs and better living conditions Africa s largely commodity driven growth has not been matched by the much needed structural change that can lead to economic transformation employment and reduced poverty Market failures necessitate industrial policy interventions Yet in the absence of the right processes and institutions good industrial policies will fail Indeed weak institutions and poor policy design have hindered industrial policy This report gives a framework for getting the policy process right to foster industrialization It uses 11 country case studies to assess the critical ingredients for spurring industrialization innovative institutions effective processes and flexible mechanisms and structural transformation Intelligence Wars Steven K. O'Hern,2008-11-25 In this revealing insider s look at the US intelligence community s efforts to fight the insurgency in Iraq author Steven K O Hern who served in Iraq in 2005 as a senior intelligence officer offers a critical assessment of our intelligence failures and suggests ways of improving our ability to fight an often elusive enemy O Hern criticizes America s military leaders for being enamored with high technology solutions for all situations including intelligence operations Essentially we are still relying on an intelligence system that was designed to beat the Soviet army Using examples from human source operations conducted in Iraq this book explains why human intelligence not technology is the key to defeating an insurgency and why the US is so poor at using what the military calls HUMINT O Hern also cites internal structural problems that work against effective intelligence operations The author gives examples of missed opportunities that resulted from information being caught in stovepipes and red tape In conclusion he cautions that these unresolved problems will continue to affect the United States in any future conflict against an insurgency JARQ. ,2013 Hospital Literature Index ,1984 Cumulative Index of Hospital Literature Library of the American Hospital Association, Asa S.
