

WORD Vocabulary

Ionic Bond Chemical bond formed when one or more electrons are transferred from one atom to another.

Ion atom that has a positive or negative charge.

covalent bond type of bond between atoms in which the electrons are shared molecule smallest unit of most compounds that displays all the properties of that compound

weak interactions interactions that determine the behavior of negatively charged regions of nearby molecules

Proton The positive part and/or mass "sleeper." A compound is made up of elements joined together, and a covalent bond connects atoms that share electrons together. (How are covalent bonds different from ionic bonds?)

Chemical Bonds

Every substance that are the main types of chemical bonds?

The atoms in compounds are held together by chemical bonds. Bonds are formed by the electrons in the outer shell, which are called valence electrons. The main types of chemical bonds are ionic bonds and covalent bonds.

Ionic Bonds Ionic bonds are formed when one or more electrons are transferred from one atom to another. This transfer causes the atom losing the electrons to become positively charged. The atom gaining the electrons becomes negatively charged. The positively and negatively charged atoms become ions. The oppositely charged ions are attracted to each other and form an ionic bond.

Covalent Bonds Sometimes atoms share electrons rather than transferring them. These shared electrons move around the nuclei of both atoms. The bond formed by sharing electrons is called a covalent bond. Atoms can share between two and six electrons. The structure that results is known as a molecule. A molecule is the smallest unit of most compounds.

Weak Interactions The strongest chemical bonds are ionic or covalent. Weak interactions between atoms are also important. Within living organisms, many molecules interact only briefly. Van der Waals forces are one type of weak interaction between molecules. They occur when molecules are very close together.

Hydrogen bonds are another type of weak interaction. They occur between a hydrogen atom of one molecule and an oxygen or nitrogen atom of a neighboring molecule.
