Culture, philosophies and reforms in public administration for the globalizing world Edwin O.C. Ijeoma, Ogochukwu I. Nzewi, 2018-12-31 The aim of this scholarly collected work is to contribute to the scientific discourse on public administration in a globalised environment The book reflects on governance challenges in South Africa and in Africa with its point of departure being the master narratives the so called grand debates such as New Public Management and specifically the role of technology It also reflects on the so called middle range discourses concerning organisational level issues in government e g leadership and work procedures and explores new solutions to old governance challenges like corruption and service delivery The uniqueness of this collected work lies in its ability to reflect on existing philosophies and practices in an innovative way Through its multidisciplinary lens the book opens up a new vision for the future of public administration in the South African context and on the African continent not neglecting the current local regional and global environment Until recently globalisation was considered an entrenched world order but international political events during the course of the past few years have resulted in one of the biggest challenges to its endurance in recent history This includes developments such as the successful referendum in Britain to exit the European Union highlighting the growth of a severe nationalist and protectionist agenda that may be a signal of the unravelling of the current globalism world order These developments inspire deeper interrogation of the challenges to effective public administration globally and the ripple effects in South Africa and Africa as a whole Pointedly it is evident that ensuring the voice of citizens in policy decision making remains a critical governance challenge On the policy front there are perennial challenges of land reform service delivery and poverty while on the governance front corruption has metastasised with a growing culture of impunity and lack of accountability in leadership In the midst of growing corruption and more than 20 years into democracy South Africa's income inequality remains one of the highest in the world This setting constitutes the context of the research outcome published in this scholarly work

Transforming Higher Education in Asia and Africa

Fred M. Hayward, 2020-03-01 Drawing on over fifty years of on the ground experience Fred M Hayward's Transforming Higher Education in Asia and Africa analyzes change processes in higher education in eight Asian and African countries. The twelve cases range from the push to upgrade and transform higher education in Afghanistan in the midst of a war to the successful struggle against apartheid in South African institutions as well as thwarted efforts in Sierra Leone and Madagascar. Providing both practical lessons learned and hope for communities globally Hayward demonstrates that higher education change and even transformation which is more fundamental and structural can occur even in the most difficult environments. Successful transformation requires well crafted strategic and budget plans with careful implementation monitoring and effective leadership at multiple levels. Yet also critical are a commitment to human development a desire for freedom and belief in democracy and recognition that high quality higher education is essential to national development.

Nationalism, Politics and Anthropology Ilana van Wyk, Jimmy Pieterse, 2022-02-28 In this book Ilana van Wyk and Jimmy Pieterse interrogate the question of political subjectivity and its role in the making of anthropology and anthropologists by revisiting the pitched battles between so called liberal social anthropologists and conservative nationalist volkekundiges in South Africa. They pay particular attention to the social and cultural lives of two men who were central proponents of South African anthropology's two tales Kees van der Waal a former volkekundige and John Sharp once one of volkekunde's fiercest critics. Through a series of conversations with Kees and John they show that the issues that once divided a local field still animate the ways in which centres and peripheries of global anthropology relate to one another and to foundational questions about the discipline's epistemology and political positionality.

Social Justice and Education in the 21st Century Willie Pearson Jr., Vijay Reddy, 2021-04-10 The world is not an equal place. There are high and low income countries and high and low income households. For each group there are differential educational opportunities leading to differential educational outcomes and differential labor market opportunities. This pattern often reproduces the privileges and inequalities of groups in a society. This book explores this differentiation in education from a social justice lens. Comparing the United States and South Africa this book analyzes each country's developmental thinking on education from human capital and human rights approaches in both primary and higher education. The enclosed contributions draw from different disciplines including legal studies sociology psychology computer science and public policy.
