Madame Lafayette to the grand drama of Edmund Burke and William Pitt the Younger debating in Parliament the contents of these letters draw an incredibly rich picture of international life in the 1780s and an incomparable portrait of America's first family of politics and letters The dramatic works of Molière Molière, 1878 Quote, 1961 Baudelaire and Caricature: From the Comic to an Art of Modernity, Baudelaire's essays on caricature offered the first sustained defense of the value of caricature as a serious art worthy of study in its own right. This book argues for the crucial importance of the essays for his conception of modernity so fundamental to the subsequent history of modernism. From the theory of the comic formulated in De l'essence du rire to his discussions of Daumier Goya Hogarth Cruikshank Bruegel Grandville Gavarni Charlet and many others Baudelaire develops not only an aesthetic of caricature but also a caricatural aesthetic dual and contradictory grotesque ironic violent farcical fantastic and fleeting that defines an art of modern life. In particular Baudelaire's insistence on the dualism and ambiguity of laughter has radical implications for such emblems of modernity as the city and the flâneur who roams the streets. The modern city is the space of the comic a kind of caricature presenting the flâneur with an image of dualism one's position as subject and object implicated in the same urban experiences one seems to control. The theory of the comic invests the idea of modernity with reciprocity one's status as laughter and object of laughter thus preventing the subjective construction and appropriation of the world that has so often been linked with the project of modernism. Comic art reflects what Walter Benjamin later defined as Baudelairean allegory at once representing and revealing the alienation of modern experience. But Baudelaire also transforms the dualism of the comic into a peculiarly modern unity the doubling of the comic artist enacted for the benefit of the audience the self generating and self reflexive experience of the flâneur in a communion with the crowd. This study examines his views in the context of the history of comic theory and contemporary accounts of the individual artists. Complete with illustrations of the many works discussed it illuminates the history and theory of caricature the comic and the grotesque and adds to our understanding of modernism in literature and the visual arts The Dramatic Works of Molière Molière, 1875 THE RELATION OF MOLIÈRE TO RESTORATION COMEDY. JOHN WILCOX, 1931 The Dramatic Works of J.B. Poquelin-Molière Molière, 1878 The German Molière Revival and the Comedies of Hugo Von Hofmannsthal and Carl Sternheim Dugald S. Sturges, 1993 Although they have yet to be treated together in a comparative study Hugo von Hofmannsthal and Carl Sternheim had a number of points of convergence in their respective searches for a modern form for the serious comedy. This study documents the collegial relationship between the two authors in part with previously unpublished archival material analyses their respective treatments of Molière's comedies and places this in the context of Molière's reception in the German speaking countries since the 17th century. What emerges is a new view of the comedies of Hofmannsthal and Sternheim which sees both dramatists applying the same technique of countermodelling Molière's constellations of comedic figures a modern critical re-appraisal of the traditional comedic type character The Works of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, 1891 Writing the Self Robin

Ostle,Ed de Moor,Stefan Wild,1998 The chapters in this volume cover a broad spectrum of autobiographical material and ranges in time from the 17th century to the present day They include travelogues as a category of autobiographical writing as well as a wide variety of the more traditional retrospective prose histories of the self The Dramatic Works of Molière:
