Making Inferences:

Picture this:

Picker the firefly was tired of the same old routine. Every night, the fireflies in their meadow would gather, turn their lights on, and then drift off to sleep. Picker longed for adventure. He saw beyond the familiar borders of grass and tall wildflowers. One evening, as the other fireflies began their nighttime blinks, Picker stayed hidden.

He waited until the meadow was dark, then with a tiny whisper, he darted off. He flew past sleeping crickets and snoring beetles, his tiny light illuminating the path. He reached the edge of the meadow and stopped, in front of him stretched out a vast forest, its towering trees casting long shadows. Picker felt a thrill course through him. This was uncharted territory.

He飞ted deeper into the woods, the tiny light barely penetrating darkness. Shattered Picker froze. As well he knew such forest had its own rules.

"Just then, a soft voice spoke. "Don't be afraid, little one." A glow over picker's left. Picker explained how he yearned for adventure full of dangers.

"You need a guide." Picker's light flickered with hope. "Would you like glowing mushrooms, that singe crickets, and even glowing

He learned about the delicate balance of the forest, the impact to the meadow. Picker promised to be more cautious when he returned.

From that night on, Picker continued to gain the other fireflies' trust. With fascinating creatures, he demonstrated the importance of safety and respect for all.

Evidence-Based Reading, Grade 4 Carson-Dellosa Publishing, 2015-01-05 Evidence Based Reading for grade 4 offers 64 pages of reading practice. It is aligned with the Common Core State Standards and includes a reading comprehension rubric, a standards alignment chart, and pages of reading passages with evidence based questions to encourage higher level thinking and thoughtful answers. Each question is designed so that students learn to support their answers with evidence from the text. A variety of literature and informational passages are included to engage learners in a range of texts. The Applying the Standards Evidence Based Reading series emphasizes close reading by requiring students to answer text dependent questions in both literary and informational texts. This is a series of six 64 page books for students in kindergarten to grade 5. Various reading and vocabulary skills are covered and a culminating reflection question for each passage engages students higher level thinking skills. Of particular emphasis throughout the series are the Common Core State Standards and the teaching of evidence based reading.
