User Experience Design in the Era of Automated Driving Andreas Riener, Myounghoon Jeon, Ignacio Alvarez, 2022-01-01 This book is dedicated to user experience design for automated driving to address humane aspects of automated driving e.g. workload, safety, trust, ethics, and acceptance. Automated driving has experienced a major development boost in recent years. However, most of the research and implementation has been technology driven rather than human centered. The levels of automated driving have been poorly defined and inconsistently used. A variety of application scenarios and restrictions has been ambiguous. Also, it deals with human factors design practices and methods as well as applications such as multimodal infotainment, virtual reality, augmented reality, and interactions in and outside users. This book aims at 1) providing engineers, designers, and practitioners with a broad overview of the state of the art user experience research in automated driving to speed up the implementation of automated vehicles and 2) helping researchers and students benefit from various perspectives and approaches to generate new research ideas and conduct more integrated research.

Human-Automation Interaction Design Jediah R. Clark, Neville A. Stanton, Kirsten Revell, 2021-10-21 This text presents a four step approach for applying communicative concepts to driving automation including scoping, piloting, designing, and testing. It further provides experimental data on how practical human-human communication strategies can be applied to interaction in automated vehicles. The book explores the role of communication and the nature of situation awareness in automated vehicles to ensure safe and usable automated vehicle operation. It covers the issue of interaction in automated vehicles by providing insight into communicative concepts, the transfer of control in human teams, and how these concepts can be applied in automated vehicles. The theoretical framework is built on by presenting experimental findings, design workshop output, and providing a demonstration of prototype generation for automated assistants that addresses a wide range of performance outcomes within human machine interaction. Aimed at professionals, graduate students, and academic researchers in the fields of ergonomics, automotive engineering, transportation engineering, and human factors, this text discusses experimental findings on how practical human-human communication strategies can be applied to interaction in automated vehicles. Provides a four step approach for applying communicative concepts to driving automation including scoping, piloting, designing, and testing. Explores the role of distributed situation awareness in automated vehicles. Covers communication and system awareness in response to multiple complex road scenarios. Provides design guidelines for automation, human handover design.
