Developing and Validating Test Items Thomas M. Haladyna, Michael C. Rodriguez, 2013-07-18 Since test items are the building blocks of any test learning how to develop and validate test items has always been critical to the teaching learning process As they grow in importance and use testing programs increasingly supplement the use of selected response multiple choice items with constructed response formats This trend is expected to continue As a result a new item writing book is needed one that provides comprehensive coverage of both types of items and of the validity theory underlying them This book is an outgrowth of the author's previous book Developing and Validating Multiple Choice Test Items 3e Haladyna 2004 That book achieved distinction as the leading source of guidance on creating and validating selected response test items Like its predecessor the content of this new book is based on both an extensive review of the literature and on its author's long experience in the testing field It is very timely in this era of burgeoning testing programs especially when these items are delivered in a computer based environment Key features include Comprehensive and Flexible No other book so thoroughly covers the field of test item development and its various applications Focus on Validity Validity the most important consideration in testing is stressed throughout and is based on the Standards for Educational and Psychological Testing currently under revision by AERA APA and NCME Illustrative Examples The book presents various selected and constructed response formats and uses many examples to illustrate correct and incorrect ways of writing items Strategies for training item writers and developing large numbers of items using algorithms and other item generating methods are also presented Based on Theory and Research A comprehensive review and synthesis of existing research runs throughout the book and complements the expertise of its authors Comparative Sociology of Examinations Fumiya Onaka, 2019-03-28 Contemporary societies are constructed constricted and constrained by various series of examinations Governments of both Western and non Western countries tend to conduct detailed multi layered and continuous systems of tests or examinations International tests such as PISA and TIMSS have also been introduced to compare the relative performances of learners within diverse educational institutions across different countries Examinations therefore provide a methodological pivot for comparing a range of societies They enable us to contrast the West and the East the North and the South tribal and mass society ancient and postmodern civilization and so on Comparing parallel societies from across Asia the Middle East Europe and North America this book proposes fundamental transitions in sociological research from system to process and from communication to composition through intensive studies on examinations It uses ethnographies interviews questionnaires documents statistics and big data analyses to make comparisons on broad scales of time and space In so doing it suggests hypotheses encompassing different kinds of societies in human history including those in the Axial Age and the Modern Ages
