

APES 2021 #1 (Set 1) FRQ-Aligned Multiple Choice Questions - KEY

Many justifications for each correct multiple choice question can be found within the Chief Reader Report and Sample Student Responses found here.

1. Which response below would earn the FRQ point?
 - a. The independent variable is the compass direction the PV panels are facing.
 - b. The independent variable of the experiment will be the sun or amount of light that is being measured.
 - c. The independent variable is the PV panels.
 - d. The independent variable in the experiment would be the amount of sunshine in the location per day or the time of year.
2. Which response below would earn the FRQ point?
 - a. The dependent variable is the facing direction, how much electricity in kWh is produced.
 - b. The amount of electricity produced in kWh.
 - c. The dependent variable is the position or direction of the panels that will change.
 - d. The dependent variable is the amount of solar energy the panels receive during this experiment.
3. Which response below would NOT earn the FRQ point?
 - a. A reasonable hypothesis for this experiment would be that the panels will be able to produce the most amount of electricity when facing the sun rises from which would be the east.
 - b. If the panels face either east or west then the amount of electricity generated will increase because the sun rises and sets in those directions.
 - c. If the PV panels are installed on a roof in the northern hemisphere, the greatest amount of electricity produced will be when facing south.
 - d. If you install photovoltaic panels on a roof of a house, will it help provide electricity for the home?
4. Which response below would earn the FRQ point?
 - a. One variable that could affect the results of the study is weather. The amount of cloud cover could heavily change energy output.
 - b. One variable that could change the results of the study that was not discussed was the weather and how it can affect the amount of exposure the solar panels have to light.
 - c. One variable that isn't discussed is the amount of condensation and precipitation in the area. This can affect the results because clouds block sunlight so areas with more clouds would generate less electricity.
 - d. The weather could affect the results of the study because if the sky is overcast then the solar panels will receive less sun due to the clouds blocking the sun.
5. Which response below would NOT earn the FRQ point?
 - a. The turbine is the location of the hydroelectric dam where water's kinetic energy turns into mechanical energy.
 - b. Kinetic energy turns to mechanical energy at the generator.
 - c. Kinetic energy turns to mechanical energy in the turbine section of the generator.
 - d. Turbine
6. Which response below would NOT earn the FRQ point?
 - a. By being higher in elevation it stores potential energy that can be converted to kinetic energy to power the turbine when released downhill.
 - b. The water in the storage reservoir contains a lot of water being contained at a higher altitude than where the turbine is. As gravity pulls down the water from potential to kinetic energy, this increases the rate at which electricity is generated.
 - c. It has potential energy because the water from there creates kinetic energy and then that kinetic energy is turned to mechanical energy.
 - d. Water in the storage has potential energy because it is above the generator. Gravity gives it its potential energy when it comes down.

Foundations of Metacognition Michael J. Beran, 2012-09-06 Metacognition refers to the awareness an individual has of their own mental processes In the past thirty years metacognition research has become a rapidly growing field of interdisciplinary research within the cognitive sciences This book brings together leading cognitive scientists to consider some of the key questions regarding this phenomenon Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts, 2008

Evolution of Primate Social Cognition Laura Desirée Di Paolo, Fabio Di Vincenzo, Francesca De Petrillo, 2018-09-14 This interdisciplinary volume brings together expert researchers coming from primatology anthropology ethology philosophy of cognitive sciences neurophysiology mathematics and psychology to discuss both the foundations of non human primate and human social cognition as well as the means there currently exist to study the various facets of social cognition The first part focusses on various aspects of social cognition across primates from the relationship between food and social behaviour to the connection with empathy and communication offering a multitude of innovative approaches that range from field studies to philosophy The second part details the various epistemic and methodological means there exist to study social cognition in particular how to ascertain the proximal and ultimate mechanisms of social cognition through experimental modelling and field studies In the final part the mechanisms of cultural transmission in primate and human societies are investigated and special attention is given to how the evolution of cognitive capacities underlie primates abilities to use and manufacture tools and how this in turn influences their social ecology A must read for both young scholars as well as established researchers

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Evolutionary Psychology Jennifer Vonk, Todd K. Shackelford, 2012-01-04 The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Evolutionary Psychology ambitiously brings together an eclectic and provocative body of work from some of the brightest minds in comparative psychology and evolutionary psychology highlighting the strengths and insights of each field Across chapters readers will come to appreciate the new field of comparative evolutionary psychology which successfully combines laboratory and field approaches drawing on diverse methodologies and theoretical viewpoints to elucidate the mysteries of animal behavior and cognition This comprehensive volume includes coverage of Unique specializations in a wide range of taxa from insects cephalopods reptiles corvids canines cetaceans and primates Communication cooperation social learning memory and cognition in different species Controversial theories about the evolution of sometimes surprising abilities in species both phylogenetically close to and distant from humans Suitable for seasoned researchers and graduate students alike this volume reflects a range of views on human and non human behavior and cognition and advances these topics in a wide range of species Evolution of Nervous Systems Georg F. Striedter, Theodore H. Bullock, Todd M. Preuss, John Rubenstein, Leah A. Krubitzer, 2016-11-23 Evolution of Nervous Systems Second Edition Four Volume Set is a unique major reference which offers the gold standard for those interested both in evolution and nervous systems All biology only makes sense when seen in the light of evolution and this is especially true for the nervous system All animals have nervous systems that mediate their behaviors many of them species specific yet these nervous systems all evolved from the simple nervous system of a common ancestor To understand these nervous systems we need to know how they vary and how this variation emerged in evolution In the first edition of this important reference work over 100 distinguished neuroscientists assembled the current state of the art knowledge on how nervous systems have evolved throughout the animal kingdom This second edition remains rich in detail and broad in scope outlining the changes in brain and nervous system organization that occurred from the first invertebrates and vertebrates to present day fishes reptiles birds mammals and especially primates including humans The book also includes wholly new content fully updating the chapters in the previous edition and offering brand new content on current developments in the field Each of the volumes has been carefully restructured to offer expanded coverage of non mammalian taxa mammals primates and the human nervous system The basic principles of brain evolution are discussed as are mechanisms of change The reader can select from chapters on highly specific topics or those that provide an overview of current thinking and approaches making this an indispensable work for students and researchers alike Presents a broad range of topics ranging from genetic control of development in invertebrates to human cognition offering a one stop resource for the evolution of nervous systems throughout the animal kingdom Incorporates the expertise of over 100 outstanding investigators who provide their conclusions in the context of the latest experimental results Presents areas of disagreement and consensus views that provide a holistic view of the subjects under discussion

David N. Cooper,Hildegard Kehler-Sawatzki,2008-10-13 This splendid compendium will be the standard reference work for years to come a handbook to browse to consult to look things up in and to read with pleasure wonder and post Darwinian exhilaration Richard Dawkins This is a marvellous book It should be in every university library preferably in several copies and every reader of this journal should add it to their next grant application It really is that good I have already found this book to be invaluable For many years to come these two volumes will be the starting point for anyone wishing to find out about virtually any subject relating to human genetics Any scientist working on humans or other animals will find many things in these pages that will stimulate inform and inspire The authors editors and publishers are to be congratulated for their work order a copy now HUMAN GENETICS The publishers and editors deserve to be congratulated for publishing this major book which coincides with the 200th anniversary of the birth of Charles Darwin The book is well timed with biologists theologians and sociologists engaged in intense debate on the Darwinian Theory on the origin of species evolution and natural selection There is little doubt that this marvellous publication should be in the library of universities and academic institutions dealing with basic and applied biology research and education It will not be surprising if the individual academic or researcher decides to invest in this resource and enrich their personal collection of leading books in genetics and genomics GENOMIC MEDICINE A Unique Collection of High Quality Articles Derived from the Acclaimed Encyclopedia of Life Sciences The revolution in human molecular genetics which has taken place over the last three decades has yielded a wealth of information not only on the structure and function of our genes but also on gene expression mutation and polymorphic variation Over the last five years the focus has moved from genes to genomes Even though the annotation of our 30 000 genes is still in progress genome wide studies have already yielded abundant evidence for the signatures of past selection and adaptive evolution within human gene sequences Further the completion of the sequencing of the 3 billion base pair human genome coupled with the increasing availability of other vertebrate genome sequences has ushered in a new era of comparative genomics We are now able to identify many of the molecular events from the chromosomal level down to the single base pair that have occurred during vertebrate mammalian primate and hominid evolution Indeed the detailed comparison of the human and chimpanzee genomes has begun to reveal some of the genetic changes that have been involved in the development of human lineage specific traits We are thus acquiring the ability to ask searching questions about our origins about the demographic processes associated with the global radiation of humankind as well as some of the unique adaptations that make us human Evolutionary biology has become so broad that its impact may be felt across the spectrum of the biological sciences The aim of the Handbook of Human Molecular Evolution is relatively straightforward to bring together under the same cover the many and varied strands of our knowledge of human primate vertebrate molecular evolution Hence the 282 chapters that comprise this essential reference work have been thematically arranged into twelve sections covering the whole scope of research into human molecular evolution General Concepts in Evolutionary Genetics Mutation Adaptation and Natural Selection Evolutionary and Population Genetics Human Evolution Human Genome Evolution Evolution of Human Gene Structure and Function Evolution of Gene Expression Mitochondrial Genome Evolution Chromosomal Evolution Comparative Genomics Evolution and Disease Susceptibility Analysis of Ancient DNA This conceptual outline informed the selection of the chapters themselves and the connections between them Some of these chapters are intended to be introductory aimed at undergraduates and non specialists They provide basic information and a list of recommended further reading to encourage the reader to explore a topic in more depth This approach helps the student reader progress from textbook material to primary literature Some chapters are overviews that address topics of broad interest and importance while others focus on quite specialized topics These chapters are written for postgraduate students and research workers they contain more detailed information and key references allowing the reader to investigate a specific area in more depth This format allows professionals to use the books as a quick reference source The chapters are richly supplied with website information to allow access to relevant data sources over the internet The self contained peer reviewed articles in this unique handbook have been written by leading scientists in each field Key topics include the evolution of enzyme function the use of nucleic acid divergence as a molecular clock the origin of non functional or junk DNA the role of gene duplication in the emergence of novel gene function and the identification of molecular changes responsible for various human characteristics especially those pertaining to infection cognition disease and disease susceptibility The Handbook of Human Molecular Evolution has adopted an integrated approach to the study of human evolution and seeks throughout to emphasize the interplay between molecular genetic concepts and principles on the one hand and information acquisition and interpretation on the other In this way it is hoped that the documents of evolutionary history written into the fabric of our genome will become accessible to the widest possible audience Hi-fi News ,2008 The New York Times Index ,2008
