The Quest for the Raindrop of Life Excerpt

The sun blazed¹ in the sky above the Barren² as yet another scorching summer day. Shumped³ against a tree, the young old⁴ Kian flicked⁵ lazily through his favourite book. His brown carts⁶ flopped down over his crystal blue eyes⁷ and he blew them away with a half-hearted puff.

Kian⁸ had just finished reading the Quest for the Raindrop of Life⁹ when he looked up and saw a man carrying a load of grain and heading into the Barren land. It was hot¹⁰ that day and Kian could hardly wait to get his hands on some of the good water¹¹ that was flowing in the streams and waterfalls all around. He just knew that the man¹² through the long grass would be good¹³ to him and bring him all sorts of fun¹⁴ and adventure¹⁵. He just hoped that the man¹⁶ would not be mean¹⁷ and that Kian would not have to run¹⁸ away when he saw him coming.

Ministry of Education, Ontario. Ministry of Colleges and Universities, 1985 The third of three studies involving a comparative analysis of transactional and narrative writing of selected samples of students in two Ontario districts this study addressed questions arising from the earlier studies and examined the writing skills of students in grades 5 8 and 12 Writing samples were examined for conformity to the norms of story structure and argumentation and the subject matter of the transactional writing was analyzed The level of affective development manifested in subsamples of both the stories and the arguments was rated All the papers in the sample were analyzed for syntactic complexity scores and for mechanical and conventional errors Comparisons of the first and second versions of the papers were made to assess skills in revising and editing Findings indicated the need of students to learn how to write an argument and to revise a paper Other implications were 1 that since the level of difficulty of one aspect of a writing task may decrease the lack of control in another teachers must take into account the nature of difficulties in the tasks they set students and make their assessments accordingly 2 that students at all levels should be given occasions to write narratives 3 that the model of persuasive discourse should be countered and 4 that writing strategies recommended by authorities need to be implemented EL

This book provides insights into the development toward narrative competence and illustrates multifaceted patterns in the developing capacity to create globally coherent narrative texts. The methodology draws from both a psycholinguistic approach to narrative development, systemic functional linguistics and writing pedagogy theory. This book extends previous studies on narrative writing development since it provides a multifaceted window into the progression of narrative development from elementary school through secondary school and university to life as a professional journalist and writer. It also shows how narrative writing development is related to the cognitive, emotional, psychological and social development of the individual.

Educational Opportunity for ESL Students : Academic and English Language Instruction at Newton High Craig Barrett Wilson, 1998 Reading-writing Connections Mary F. Heller, 1991 Reading Writing Connections From Theory to Practice Second Edition is an extraordinary language arts methods text that enables elementary and middle school teachers to create classroom environments where all students can become lifelong readers and writers. Focusing on developmentally appropriate methods and materials this remarkably readable book empowers a new generation of teachers to integrate reading, writing, listening and speaking in K-8 classrooms. Heller's highly accessible writing style makes Reading Writing Connections suitable as the primary text for undergraduate and graduate courses in language arts reading, writing and literacy.
