with air Methane rich gases generally containing 80 per cent to 95 per cent methane at underground mining depths occur naturally in coal seams and are released as CMM when coal seams are disturbed by mining activities Methane is an explosive gas in the range of 5 per cent to 15 per cent methane in air The application of best practices for methane drainage and use is critical to reduce methane related accidents and explosions that all too often accompany coal mining while also contributing to environmental protection through reduction of greenhouse gas GHG emissions Good mining practices need to be transferred to all countries to ensure that risks are managed professionally and effectively No mine even in the most developed countries is free from safety risks Regardless of location or mining conditions it is possible to significantly reduce the risk of methane related incidents and explosions Good safety practice in coal mines is to reduce explosion risk by preventing the occurrence of explosive mixtures and where practical by monitoring and rapidly diluting explosive mixtures to safe concentrations IMO News ,2017 Motor Emission Control System Application Guide 1994 ,1994 Motor Emission Control System Application Guide, 1995 ,1995 Clean Air Act Handbook ,2007
