A Replacement Life:

A Replacement Life Boris Fishman, 2014-09-11 A failing young Russian American journalist's life is unexpectedly transformed when he forges Holocaust restitution claims for his rogue grandfather and his friends Slava Gelman wants to be a great writer but can't get past his job as a lowly researcher at a New York magazine Then his beloved grandmother dies and his grandfather corners him with a request to write a few Holocaust retribution claims that aren't quite true Slava is reluctant but when he gets into it his semi-fictional accounts of a generation's real suffering turn out to be the best writing he has ever done and a surprisingly wonderful way for Slava to reconnect with his family and his own roots Although he lives in fear of discovery and continues to stumble from one tragicomic incident to another by the time Slava is finally confronted by a German government employee he is ready to play a role that is almost heroic A beautifully written emotionally powerful literary debut about family love memory and the truth in fiction Boris Fishman was born in Minsk Belarus in 1979 and immigrated to the United States at the age of nine He is the editor of Wild East Stories from the Last Frontier and his work has appeared in the New Yorker The New York Times Magazine New Republic Wall Street Journal London Review of Books New York Times Book Review and other publications He lives in New York City A Replacement Life is his first novel

Finding a Replacement for the Soul Brett Bourbon, 2009-06-30 Approaching the study of literature as a unique form of the philosophy of language and mind as a study of how we produce nonsense and imagine it as sense this is a book about our human ways of making and losing meaning Brett Bourbon asserts that our complex and variable relation with language defines a domain of meaning and being that is misconstrued and missed in philosophy in literary studies and in our ordinary understanding of what we are and how things make sense Accordingly his book seeks to demonstrate how the study of literature gives us the means to understand this relationship The book itself is framed by the literary and philosophical challenges presented by Joyce's Finnegans Wake and Wittgenstein's Philosophical Investigations With reference to these books and the problems of interpretation and meaning that they pose Bourbon makes a case for the fundamental philosophical character of the study of literature and for its dependence on theories of meaning disguised as theories of mind Within this context he provides original accounts of what sentences fictions non-fictions and poems produce a new account of the logical form of fiction and of the limits of interpretation that follow from it and delineates a new and fruitful domain of inquiry in which literature philosophy and science intersect Table of Contents Preface Note on Abbreviations Introduction What Are We When We Are Not Part I The Surface of Language and the Absence of Meaning 1 From Soul Making to Person Making 2 The Logical Form of Fiction 3 The Emptiness of Literary Interpretation 4 To Be But Not To Mean 5 How Do Oracles Mean Part II Senses and Nonsenses Joyce's Finnegans Wake and Wittgenstein's Philosophical Investigations 6 A Twitterlitter of Nonsense Askesis at Finnegans Wake 7 The Analogy between Persons and Words 8 The Human Body Is the Best Picture of the Human Soul 9 The Senses of Time 10 Being Something and Meaning Something

Bibliography Acknowledgments Index This is an adventurous and unusual book Bourbon moves back and forth between literary and philosophical contexts with ease showing in multifarious ways how the one can often in unexpected ways illuminate the other Throughout these wide ranging explorations Bourbon uncovers a good deal about both the nature of literary meaning and our distinctive if tellingly irreducible relations to literary texts Garry L Hagberg author of Art as Language Wittgenstein Meaning and Aesthetic Theory and Meaning and Interpretation Wittgenstein Henry James and Literary Knowledge
