A Date to Die Rion Mary Gabriel, 2014-10-15 The news of my brother's suicide rubbed me raw like sandpaper. Joey and I were born on the same day, eleven years apart, and for me we would die on the same day, eleven years apart. Destiny and my promise I waited nine years to grieve. I kept my promise to myself for ten long years. The grief from suicide is more traumatic than a normal grief. My other promise was to stay sober in Joey's honor. I failed sobriety quickly, drinking to numb my life and no longer for fun and relaxation. I wish I could say my brother's suicide and our alcoholism are the end of this memoir, but my sobriety revealed I had mental health problems. Unfortunately, a correct diagnosis took years. After sobriety, I tried multiple self-harm behaviors to bring about a sudden rush of adrenaline. This contributed to my 9-year career of at least 30 trips to mental health hospitals. Thank God I stumbled upon something to bring the miracle of life to me. With suicide being more than double that of homicide in the United States, answers are challenging to find. The reader will learn how to work with someone who is standing on that ledge of life and leaning toward death as their solution. Most often when those who have lost someone to suicide inform our clinical work, it is by sharing their story in hopes of sparing others the torment that they experienced. Dr. Michael Arch, PhD, LCSW, CT

The American Friend, 1895 The Journal of John Jourdain, 1608-1617, Describing His Experiences in Arabia, India, and the Malay Archipelago John Jourdain, 1905

John Jourdain died 1619 was a British captain in the service of the East India Company. He joined the company as a factor in 1607 and first sailed on its Fourth Voyage to India, making stops along the way at the Cape of Good Hope, Socotra, and other Indian Ocean islands, and Aden and Mocha in Yemen, before arriving at Surat. The Fourth Voyage consisted of two ships, the Union and the Ascension. A pinnace was built and added to the two ships during a stop at Table Bay. The voyage encountered many problems, and the ships never made it back to England. Bad weather in the Indian Ocean separated the vessels, and hostilities with the Portuguese and with the natives often broke out, making the voyage the worst in the company's early history. After failing to secure a trading post in India and dismayed with the time and gifts they wasted on Mughal officials, the British headed back to the Red Sea, where they resorted to seizing and ransoming Indian ships near Mocha. Jourdain was later sent on a mission to Sumatra, this time to challenge the Dutch monopoly on trade in the Spice Islands.

The Journal of John Jourdain 1608-1617: Describing his Experiences in Arabia, India, and the Malay Archipelago is the author's narrative of the nine years he was away while serving in the East India Company. The book begins with a lengthy introduction summarizing and elucidating the events that Jourdain chronicled in his journal. It begins on March 25, 1608, when he left the Downs on the southeast coast of England and ends on June 19, 1617, when his journal ceased with a final entry written near Dungeness on the way to the Downs. On a later journey, Jourdain was shot by a Dutch sniper in Patani, India, and died from his wounds in July 1619. The journal entries vary in length and substance, from brief descriptions of the weather conditions at sea to much longer accounts of events and places. Lists of authorities, bibliographies, and appendices of people and places are given at the end of
