Four Years in Secessia Junius Henri Browne, 1865      Glitterworlds Rebecca Coleman, 2021-06-29 An original examination of the ubiquity of glitter from bodily adornment to activist glitter bombing and its vibrant and transformational properties Glitter is everywhere from crafting to makeup from vagazelling to glitter bombing from fashion to fish Glitter also gets everywhere It sticks to what it is and isn't supposed to and travels beyond its original uses eliciting reactions ranging from delight to irritation In Glitterworlds Rebecca Coleman examines this ubiquity of glitter following it as it moves across different popular cultural worlds and exploring its effect on understandings and experiences of gender sexuality class and race Coleman investigates how girls engage with glitter in collaging workshops to imagine their futures how glitter can adorn the outside and the inside of the body how glitter features in the films Glitter and Precious and how LGBTQ activists glitter bomb homophobic and transphobic people Throughout Coleman attends to the plurality of politics that glitter generates approaching this through the concepts of hope wonder fabulation and prefigurative politics all of which indicate the making of different better worlds although often not in ways that are straightforward or conventional She develops an original account of future politics where time is nonlinear and sometimes non progressive Coleman's argument brings together feminist cultural theory feminist new materialisms and theories on futures and temporality in order to propose that we should understand glitter as a thing vibrant processual transformational and traversing boundaries between media and material culture and nature bodies and environments      A Secret of the Past Victor O'Donovan Power, 1893

Lippincott's Monthly Magazine, 1893      Oliver Optic's Magazine Oliver Optic, 1875      The English Illustrated Magazine, 1894      Beyond Union Lines (Abridged, Annotated) Junius Henri Browne, War has its fascinations as drunkenness licentiousness murder journalism and the stage have theirs What is War after all but scientific assassination throat gutting by rule causing misery and vice and pain and death by prescribed forms It is a palpable anachronism and yet it continues We are fortunate to have this remarkable book by famous journalist Junius Henri Browne a special war correspondent for the New York Tribune who not only reported from the field in the Civil War but spent time as a captive of the Rebels A literate witty urbane man with a coterie of fellow correspondents at his side whom he called the Bohemians Browne witnessed all the horror and carnage of the American Civil War He was at Fort Donelson Shiloh Vicksburg and more As in wars today some of his fellow reporters were among the casualties He also wrote of the humorous the ironic and the ridiculous side of the conflict On May 3 1863 while dodging the shore batteries during the siege of Vicksburg Browne and his friends were captured by Confederate soldiers For more than two years he endured all the deprivations of horribly inadequate prisoner camps all the while plotting escape In exciting witty prose Browne has left us an account of the war like no other written shortly after his escape and repatriation to the North in 1865 At the end of the conflict he adds his thoughts on the future An opponent of slavery he says Nothing however let me remark seems more inconsistent and irrational than the supposition that the negroes who have for generations raised the products of the South while enslaved will be unable to do so when emancipated For the first time this long out of print book is available in an affordable well formatted edition for e readers and smartphones Be sure to LOOK INSIDE or download a sample     The Rose of Wharfedale ... Tighe,1893     Battle of the Linguist Mages Scotto Moore,2022-01-11 This is a stand alone novel with material enough for six By the halfway point it had blown my mind twice an audacious genre bending whirlwind New York Times It reads like Snow Crash had a dance off with Gideon the Ninth in a world where language isn t a virus from outer space it s a goddamn alien invasion Charles Stross In modern day Los Angeles a shadowy faction led by the Governor of California develops the arcane art of combat linguistics planting the seeds of a future totalitarian empire Isobel is the Queen of the medieval rave themed VR game Sparkle Dungeon Her prowess in the game makes her an ideal candidate to learn the secrets of power morphemes unnaturally dense units of meaning that warp perception when skilfully pronounced But Isobel s reputation makes her the target of a strange resistance movement led by spellcasting anarchists who may be the only thing stopping the cabal from toppling California over the edge of a terrible transformation with forty million lives at stake Time is short for Isobel to level up and choose a side because the cabal has attracted much bigger and weirder enemies than the anarchist resistance emerging from dark and vicious dimensions of reality and heading straight for planet Earth At the Publisher s request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied     Excelsior Writer and Speaker Henry Davenport Northrop,1899
