Higher Education, Stratification, and Workforce Development Sheila Slaughter,Barrett Jay Taylor,2015-11-17 This work analyses how political economic shifts contribute to competition within higher education systems in the US EU and Canada The authors highlight competition for prestige and public and private subsidies exploring the consequences of these processes through theoretical and empirical analyses Accordingly the work highlights topics that will be of interest to a wide range of audiences Concepts addressed include stratification privatization of formerly public subsidies preference for high tech academic fields and the vocationalization of the curriculum i e Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics STEM fields selected professions and business rather than the liberal arts or the Humboldtian vision of the university Across national contexts and analytic methods authors analyze the growth of national policies that see universities as a sub set of economic development casting universities as corporate research laboratories and education as central to job creation Throughout the volume the authors make the case that national and regional approaches to politics and markets result in different experiences of consequences of academic capitalism While these shifts serve the interests of some institutions others find themselves struggling to meet ever greater expectations with stagnant or shrinking resource bases

Identifying and Managing Risk at Work Chris L. Peterson,2021-11-25 With a focus on five major regions globally UK US Europe Canada and Australia Identifying and Managing Risk at Work outlines key regional factors affecting risk and its management This volume looks at the social production and social construction of risk as well as taking a labour process approach and socio political perspective to investigate the nature and causes of work related risk In addition there are several issues included that contribute to identifying risk at work such as climate change the gig economy and the Me Too movement Readers will gain a picture of some of the major current issues that are affecting risk under globalisation Drawing on these key aspects of risk students academics practitioners and policy makers will gain a better understanding of how risk is conceptualised and identified and of the roles of management and employees in dealing with risk This book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners to help gain an understanding of risk for a number of regions and how several current issues in globalisation can be seen in their risk context

The Legal Regulation of Academic Freedom

Lucia Pallier,2025-11-12 This book compares and examines the ways in which law addresses and resolves conflicts between academic freedom and responsibility Academic freedom is an important value in the modern scientific and technologically driven world Societies depend heavily on the commodities of scientific progress especially in essential sectors such as healthcare and as a result research is now carried out in an increasingly globalized context protected by national and international law This freedom can however be problematic if it is decoupled from a commitment to academic responsibility scientific rigor and good professional conduct Focusing on the example of biomedical research this book examines how various legal systems address the interplay between academic rights and duties More specifically it considers the tension between national constitutions and legal doctrine which tend to focus on concepts such as science inherent laws or professional standards and international law which establishes a right for everyone to enjoy the benefits of scientific progress thereby implying a duty on the part of the academic community to conduct science in a way that maximizes its benefits to society at large The book concludes by proposing policy reforms that aim to balance these demands and thus reduce tensions within the academic system This book will appeal to scholars and students working at the intersection of law and science as well as policymakers and STEM scientists concerned with issues of academic freedom

Challenging Knowledge Gerard Delanty,2001 For far too long we have waited for a book that recorded the ideas of the modern university Now in Gerard Delanty s new book we have it Delanty has faithfully set out the views of the key thinkers and in the process has emerged with an idea of the university that is his We are in his debt Professor Ronald Barnett University of London Gerard Delanty is one of the most productive and thought provoking social theorists currently writing in the UK He brings to his work a sophisticated and impressively cosmopolitan vision Here he turns his attention to higher education bringing incisive analysis and a surprising optimism as regards the future of the university This is a book which will stimulate all thinking people especially those trying to come to terms with mass higher education and its tribulations Professor Frank Webster University of Birmingham For too long social theory the sociology of knowledge and studies in higher education have mutually ignored each other Gerard Delanty founding editor of the European Journal of Social Theory was just the right person to bring them into dialogue Indeed dialogue and communication are his watchwords for revamping the institutional mission of the university Professor Steve Fuller University of Warwick Drawing from current debates in social theory about the changing nature of knowledge this book offers the most comprehensive sociological theory of the university that has yet appeared The famous philosophical conceptions of the university from the Enlightenment to postmodern thought are discussed along with the major writings in modern social theory on the university such as those of Weber Parsons Habermas

Gadamer Lyotard and Bourdieu In this far reaching contribution to the sociology of knowledge Delanty views the university as a key institution of modernity and as the site where knowledge culture and society interconnect He assesses the question of the crisis of the university with respect to issues such as globalization the information age the nation state academic capitalism cultural politics and changing relationships between research and teaching Arguing against the notion of the demise of the university his argument is that in the knowledge society of today a new identity for the university is emerging based on communication and new conceptions of citizenship It will be essential reading for those interested in changing relationships between modernity knowledge higher education and the future of the university Globalization and Society

Raymond Breton,Jeffrey G. Reitz,2003-12-30 Globalization has been defined as a process in which the population of the world is increasingly bonded into a single society Although none of the contributors to this collection denies the thrust toward convergence that is implicit in globalizing processes each contributor also concludes that globalization encourages differentiation Integration in the global system is not a passive process In different nations people analyze and interpret what is happening and respond by developing policies forming new institutions and changing existing ones They adopt broad cultural models in order to function effectively in the larger system and they also draw upon their particular traditions values institutions and resources to define a place that will be to their advantage economically politically and socio culturally As the studies presented in this book show integration in the world system may benefit a given society or may harm it it may entail changes to a society s culture but does not obliterate a society s distinctive characteristics Sociological Abstracts

Leo P. Chall,2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Rethinking Globalization

Richard Worthington,2000 Annotation Reveals conceptual foundations of global processes describes the political economy of high tech global production and challenges its authenticity and inevitability Argues that policy is driven by a technocratic mindset that addresses social and ecological problems through ineffective half measures and shows that the most compelling examples of social improvement stem from grassroots activism and social movements Lacks a subject index The author teaches politics and chairs the Program in Public Policy Analysis at Pomona College Annotation copyrighted by Book News Incorporated Portland OR Globalization and Education

Ka-Ho Mok,David K. K. Chan,2002 This book examines and critically reflects upon the origin and development of the Quality Education Movement in Hong Kong It considers the conceptual framework and historical context for the movement and focuses on approaches to quality education policy change and education reforms and the impacts and costs of managerial approach Unhealthy Times Hugh Armstrong,Pat Armstrong,David Coburn,2001 Health and health care are at the pop of the public agenda not only in Canada but throughout the world Canada s most cherished social program health care is being transformed in many ways some highly visible and others hidden from public view Cover
