Abduction Jenny Randles,1988

The Experience of Atheism: Phenomenology, Metaphysics and Religion Claude Romano,Robyn Horner,2021-05-06 Religious and atheistic belief are presented anew in a volume of essays from leading phenomenologists in both France and the UK Atheism often presented as the negation of religious belief is here engaged with from a phenomenologically informed notion of experience The focus on experience sparks new debates in readings of belief faith and atheism as they relate to and complicate each other What unites the contributors is their relationship to phenomenology as it has developed in France in the wake of Heidegger and Husserl Leading French intellectuals from this context Jean Luc Nancy Quentin Meillassoux and Catherine Malabou amongst others contribute arresting ideas on atheistic faith the death of God and anarchic faith opening up new areas of understanding in a field whose parameters and core concepts are ever shifting Revealing the extent to which religious and atheistic belief must be seen to influence and on a fundamental level to co create one another the pluralistic society in which religious belief is counted as one option amongst many is given primacy The fact that religious faith has become not only optional but also in many contexts strangely alienated from society deeply modifies the experience of the believer as much as that of the non believer A focus on experience over and above belief moves us towards a mode of experiential knowledge which refuses to privilege the atheistic believer and deride the reality of religious belief

The Multimedia and CD-ROM Directory, 1998      Teleparody Angela Hague, David Lavery, 2002

Umberto Eco once observed that parody must never be afraid of going too far If its aim is true it simply heralds what others will later produce unblushing with impassive and assertive gravity In a cautionary attempt to dissuade those who may be tempted Teleparody fearlessly does go too far in its compilation of reviews of not yet existing but all too possible contributions to television studies In the tradition of Mad Magazine and the online humor newspaper The Onion the contributors bring all their critical skills to bear examining the hypothetical scholarship surrounding such TV texts as The Beverly Hillbillies South Park the Weather Channel Mister Rogers and Mister Ed The Teletubbies Max Headroom Sally Field and reality TV

Alien Abductions Terry Matheson, 1998-11-01 Extraterrestrials regularly abduct humans from Earth often performing bizarre surgeries and experiments on their subjects according to the popular and profitable nonfiction offered by major publishing houses Books by John Fuller Budd Hopkins David Jacobs Whitley Strieber and others have helped shape contemporary belief in alien beings Science fiction scholar Terry Matheson reveals that the alien abduction literary genre has been a part of our history for decades but was never taken seriously until recent times He explains that traditional aliens were friendly or merely curious quite different from today's ugly fierce sinister creatures Abduction narratives and individual accounts have evolved and changed and the new aliens seem to symbolize growing fears that our technology is out of control Actual accounts from abduction victims and evidence collected Matheson stresses are often greatly enhanced by the bestselling authors who market the stories or are directly linked to well known fantasy and sci fi films released or broadcast prior to the alleged abductions Alien Abductions also draws a parallel to the way societal myths are made and that in these narratives we see a new myth in the making
