Chatterji, Shashi Buluswar, Mallika Kaur, 2016-11-04 The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the region a vast body of research on this important yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over fifty research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to perpetuate impunity for perpetrators The essays in this volume focus on Nepal which though not directly colonized has not remained immune from the influence of colonialism in its neighbourhood In addition to home grown feudal patriarchal structures the writers in this volume clearly demonstrate that it is the larger colonial and post colonial context of the subcontinent that has enabled the structuring of inequalities and power relations in ways that today allow for widespread sexual violence and impunity in the country through legal systems medical regimes and social institutions The period after the 1990 democratic movement the subsequent political transformation in the aftermath of the Maoist insurgency and the writing of the new constitution has seen an increase in public discussion about sexual violence The State has brought in a slew of legislation and action plans to address this problem And yet impunity for perpetrators remains intact and justice elusive What are the structures that enable such impunity What can be done to radically transform these How must States understand the search for justice for victims and survivors of sexual violence The essays in this volume attempt to trace a history of sexual violence in Nepal look at the responses of women's groups and society at large and suggest how this serious and wide ranging problem may be addressed

Population 10 Billion Danny Dorling, 2013-06-20 Before May 2011 the top demographics experts of the United Nations had suggested that world population would peak at 9.1 billion in 2100 and then fall to 8.5 billion people by 2150 In contrast the 2011 revision suggested that 9.1 billion would be achieved much earlier maybe by 2050 or before and by 2100 there would be 10.1 billion of us What's more they implied that global human population might still be slightly rising in our total numbers a century from now So what shall we do Are there too many people on the planet Is this the end of life as we know it Distinguished geographer Professor Danny Dorling thinks we should not worry so much and that whatever impending doom may be around the corner we will deal with it when it comes In a series of fascinating chapters he charts the rise of the human race from its origins to its end point of population 10 billion

Thus he shows that while it took until about 1988 to reach 5 billion we reached 6 billion by 2000 7 billion eleven years later and will reach 8 billion by 2025 By recording how we got here Dorling is able to show us the key issues that we face in the coming decades how we will deal with scarcity of resources how our cities will grow and become more female why the change that we should really prepare for is the population decline that will occur after 10 billion Population 10 Billion is a major work by one of the world s leading geographers and will change the way you think about the future Packed full of counter intuitive ideas and observations this book is a tool kit to prepare for the future and to help us ask the right questions
