

Getting to know yourself after Recovery: Part 1

START HERE. Finish the sentence, "I miss drugs or alcohol at times because..."

Sure, okay, but how will you deal with the loss?

Alright, recovery is tough. Is it what you want, or is it what others want for you? ( What will it take for YOU to want to stay in recovery?)

List two strengths that were present before you went into recovery. They can be talents, skills, or abilities.

- 1.
- 2.

Of course, the next question is... how can you use these strengths to help you stay clean and sober?

Why are you quitting anyway? What don't you like about your addiction? (You've answered this question a 1000 times before!)

What are the benefits to recovery? (You've seen this one before too...)

Don't be embarrassed to look at your weaknesses. Understanding them helps you grow. Name two weaknesses you want to change.

- 1.
- 2.

What skills would the "new" you like to develop?

How do you let the addiction go?

How does recognizing your weakness make you a stronger person?

Creating Change Lisa M. Najavits, 2024-06-17 This flexible evidence based manual offers counselors a gentle compassionate approach to help people with trauma addiction or both explore their past. Creating Change guides clients to understand how trauma and addiction arose over time, grieve losses and regrets, create a new perspective on their life story, and take pride in their survival. The manual has 23 topics that can be implemented in any order with individuals or groups. Topics include Relationship Patterns, Break the Silence, Deepen Your Story, Darkness and Light, Emotions and Healing, and Influences. Family Community Culture. Creating Change can be implemented with any other treatment including the author's present focused model, Seeking Safety. The book has a convenient large size format and includes 70 reproducible handouts, many of which can be downloaded and printed at the companion website. See also Seeking Safety: A Treatment Manual for PTSD and Substance Abuse and the self help guide Finding Your Best Self: Revised Edition Recovery from Addiction Trauma or Both an ideal client recommendation. Group Activities for Families in Recovery Joan Zimmerman, Jon L.

Winek, 2012-12-11 Group Activities for Families in Recovery offers therapists a wealth of activities designed to help families struggling with addiction address problem areas of functioning and ultimately shift from dysfunctional patterns to healthy living. Written by expert practitioners in family oriented substance abuse treatment programs, this text focuses on group therapy as a key component to treatment. Beginning with a brief overview of the issues involved in working from a systemic family therapy perspective of addiction, the text discusses practical guidelines for working with families in groups and how to best utilize the exercises in the book. The collection of 30 group activities are suitable for a variety of family oriented substance abuse treatment groups. They are divided into seven sections covering the key issues of 1 Family Structure 2 Family Identity 3 Sober Fun 4 Toward Health 5 Anger Management 6 Healthy Communication 7 Parenting. The activities are varied and include topics presented through expressive arts, drawing, writing, acting, game playing, problem solving, enactments, worksheets, and roleplaying. The activities can be used individually incorporated into another program or stand alone as a 16 week or longer program. They can also be adapted for use in groups where children are present or for adult family groups.
