An Introduction to Poetry X. J. Kennedy, 1966      Winning Words Henry Irving Christ, 1963      Literature Laurie G. Kirschner, Stephen R. Mandell, 1997 The editors's practice is to place nontraditional or contemporary works where they belong alongside the classics to integrate new with old familiar with unfamiliar inviting students to discover new works and to see familiar works in new contexts Thus their goal in this anthology remains what it has been from the start not just to expand the literary canon but also to expand the personal canons of both students and instructors The goal is to encourage students both to appreciate works representing diverse literary subjects styles and perspectives and to recognize their own roles in bringing these diverse works into their personal literary canons by reading reacting to and writing about them Pref vision of language and theory which refuses to reduce language to a matter of naming or representation considers theory's desire for generality doomed to failure and brings out the philosophical power of the particular case. Contrasting ordinary language philosophy with dominant strands of Saussurean and post-Saussurean thought she highlights the former's originality, critical power, and potential for creative use. Finally she challenges the belief that good critics always read below the surface proposing instead an innovative view of texts as expression and action and of reading as an act of acknowledgment. Intervening in cutting edge debates while bringing Wittgenstein, Austin, and Cavell to new readers, Revolution of the Ordinary will appeal beyond literary studies to anyone looking for a philosophically serious account of why words matter.

Advanced Legal Writing Michael R. Smith, 2008 With a practical focus on persuasive writing strategy, Michael R. Smith identifies and explores three processes of persuasive writing: logos, pathos, and ethos, and provides a thorough introduction to the elements of rhetorical style. Using detailed how-to guides and plenty of examples, the author's distinctive approach to persuasive writing examines technical aspects of rhetorical style: metaphor, literary allusion, figures of speech, and graphic design. Three basic processes of persuasive legal writing strategy: Logos (logic and rational argument), Pathos (value-based argument), and Ethos (establishing credibility). Interdisciplinary contributions to persuasive writing from fields such as cognitive psychology, classical rhetoric, and morality theory. Effective strategies that extend beyond the trial or appellate brief to a broad range of documents and settings. In the Second Edition, the reader will find a new organization that puts a greater emphasis on practice and relatively less on theory for each of the three processes of persuasive writing strategy. A new six-part organization: I Introduction, II Logos Strategies, III Pathos Strategies, IV Ethos Strategies, V Rhetorical Style, VI The Ethics and Morality of Persuasion. Coverage of new developments in cognitive psychology, Pathos persuasion, and the role of metaphor in persuasive legal writing. The same manageable length. For a complete examination of the technique and strategy behind persuasive writing, Smith's text strikes the right balance of depth and scope for upper-level legal writing courses.
