Administrative intervention is to be encouraged in the schools. It is necessary to bring about a better understanding of the needs of the students. There are many ways to do this, but one of the most effective is to have a committee of parents, teachers, and students work together to develop a better understanding of the needs of the students. This committee should be composed of parents, teachers, and students who are interested in the welfare of the students. The committee should be given the power to make recommendations to the school board, and the school board should be encouraged to take action on these recommendations.
