☐ H. as section of a chromosome appears twice or more times in a cell

2. How many genetically different gametes can be produced from a diploid cell with four chromosomes pairs? Explain your answer.

From the number of genetically distinct gametes that can be produced is equal to 2^n where n is total number chromosomes pairs. A diploid cell with four chromosomes pairs contains gametes of 2^4 or 16 genetically distinct gametes.

3. Although you will learn in next lecture of health from your parents, you recognize that some traits carry the less frequent chromosomes. For example, both colour and eye colour. Why may some traits be inherited together?

That trait are inherited together and travel on the same chromosome. Therefore, those are homologous chromosomes carrying, and a heterozygous pair only passes either homologous chromosomes those traits will be found on the same chromosome in the gametes. usually, inheritance will be inherited together.

4. Describe the alignment of chromosomes during prophase I, write the significance.

During prophase I homologous chromosomes and homologous chromosomes align together, called synapsis. This is significant because it allows the crossing over to occur and results in the genetic recombination.
