Post-beur Cinema: North African Emigre and Maghrebi-French Filmmaking in France since 2000 Will Higbee, 2013-07-31 Since the early 1980s filmmakers of Maghrebi origin have made a key contribution to the representation of issues such as immigration integration and national identity in French cinema However they have done so mostly from a position on the margins of the industry In contrast since the early 2000s Maghrebi French and North African emigre filmmakers have occupied an increasingly prominent position in on both sides of the camera announcing their presence on French screens in a wider range of genres and styles than ever before This greater prominence and move to the mainstream has not automatically meant that these films have lost any of the social or political relevance of Beur cinema of the 1980s or the banlieue film of the 1990s Indeed in the 2000s these films have increasingly questioned the boundaries between national transnational and diasporic cinema whilst simultaneously demanding either implicitly or explicitly a reconsideration of the very difference that has traditionally been seen as a barrier to the successful integration of North African immigrants and their descendants into French society Through a detailed study of this transformative decade for Maghrebi French and North African emigre filmmaking in France this book argues for the emergence of a Post Beur cinema in the 2000s that is simultaneously global and local in its outlook An absorbing introduction to this key development in contemporary French cinema Post Beur Cinema is essential reading for students and scholars in Film Studies French Studies and Diaspora Studies

The EU as global actor and its influence on the global gender regime Stefanie Kessler, 2009-02-16 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2008 in the subject Politics Topic European Union grade B 1 7 University of Auckland language English abstract In the last years the European Union EU transformed the European gender regime towards gender equality thoroughly This dissertation deals with the question of the EU s external influence on transforming societies Is the external influence coherent with internal claims Trade is the EU s most important external policy area The EU is an economic giant based on the largest single market in the world Thus the EU has power in and through trade The EU makes increasingly the adaptation of normative standards a condition to access its market Does the EU integrate also standards on gender equality And does the EU transform gender regimes globally through trade What impacts does the EU have on gender regimes This dissertation examines gender impacts in the Sustainability Impact Assessments that show possible impacts of trade agreements between the EU and its partners The analysis shows that gender is secondary to economic growth and not directed towards gender equality As a consequence the EU does not use its power through trade and the coherence of internal and external efforts is questionable
