Description

The ALD-2I is an MXL II network option module that supplies two intelligent analog circuits utilizing Cerberus Pyrotronics "I" series type intelligent devices. It occupies two addresses on the II network and, through the use of a unique communications protocol, devices connected to the ALD-2I circuits are dynamically supervised by the MXL Control Panel. Smoke detectors are monitored for sensitivity and notification is given when the sensitivity is outside normal parameters. Each of the ALD-2I circuits supports the use of up to 60 alarm, trouble, security, status and supervisory type devices as well as remote conventional initiating device zone modules (RCM-1) and intelligent output devices (TRI-IGOR, ICP). Sensitivity of any smoke detector can be queried and adjusted from the control panel. Sensitivity as well as other device information can be displayed and printed at the control panel. The ALD-2I supports the use of relay bases and audible bases (independently controllable).

To provide analog loop short circuit isolation, the LIM-1 module can be used to prevent a single short from interrupting loop device communication.

Each ALD-2I circuit can be wired in either a Style 4 (Class B) or Style 6 (Class A) configuration. When using the Style 4 method, T-Tapping is permitted with no loss of supervision.

The ALD-2I has an on board microprocessor that provides it with the ability to function in a degrader mode and initiate alarm conditions even if the MXL main microprocessor fails.
