Global Responses to Domestic Violence Eve S. Buzawa, Carl G. Buzawa, 2017-06-19 This volume addresses the varied response to domestic violence in a comparative international context. The chapters are laid out in a consistent format to cover the nature of the domestic violence problem, theoretical explanations, the criminal justice response as well as health care and social service interventions in each country. The intent of the book is to provide an introduction to the attitudes and responses to domestic violence in various regions to provide meaningful comparisons and share information on best practices for different populations and regions. There are considerable variations to domestic violence approaches across cultures and regions. In some places it is considered a private or family matter which can help it perpetuate. At the same time the United States approach to domestic violence has been criticized by some as being too focused on the criminal justice system rather than other types of interventions which aim to keep families intact. This comprehensive work aims to highlight innovative approaches from several regions, important cultural sensitivities and concerns and provide analysis to identify the strengths and weakness of various approaches. This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice as well as related fields who deal with domestic violence and violence against women including sociology and social work and international justice. Practitioners and policymakers will also find it informative.
