

Sharks

Read the passage and answer the questions below.

Sharks are ancient and magnificent creatures. They have ruled the oceans for the last 400 million years. You can find sharks in every ocean in the world, and some even live in rivers and lakes. Sharks are made of a flexible material called cartilage. You have cartilage in your ears—that's why they bend! There are more than 500 known species of shark in the world. Some are no larger than your hand, while others can be the size of a school bus. The whale shark is the largest animal on earth and can grow up to 30 ft long. Sadly, shark numbers are decreasing. Each year, millions of sharks are hunted and killed for their fins. Scientists have studied the number of sharks in the ocean and are finding that their population size is decreasing. You can help sharks by learning more about them and spreading awareness—share with someone what you learned in this passage!

1. What are sharks made of? Where can you find this material in humans?

2. Which ocean can you find sharks in?

3. Why are shark numbers decreasing?

Understanding and Using Reading Assessment, K-12, 3rd Edition Peter Afflerbach, 2017-12-20 Why do we assess reading? What do we assess when we assess reading? How, where, and when do we assess reading? Reading instruction and assessment expert Peter Afflerbach addresses these questions and much more in the 3rd edition of Understanding and Using Reading Assessment K-12. Using the CURRV model to evaluate reading assessment methods, including reading inventories, teacher questioning, performance assessment, and high stakes reading tests, Afflerbach considers the consequences and usefulness of each method, the roles and responsibilities of key stakeholders, and the reliability and validity of the assessments. In addition, he examines four important but often overlooked aspects of reading assessment: Assessment accommodation for English language learners and students with special needs; Assessment of noncognitive aspects of reading, such as motivation, engagement, self-concept, and self-efficacy; The use of formative and summative assessment; The importance of self-assessment in building reading independence. The book provides detailed case studies from all grade levels to illustrate reading assessment done well. It also includes 15 reproducible forms and checklists that teachers and administrators can use to optimize their reading assessment efforts. Students are expected to read increasingly complex texts and to complete increasingly complex reading-related tasks to demonstrate their growth as readers. This book offers teachers and administrators alike a clear path to helping students meet those expectations. This book is a co-publication of ASCD and IRA.

New to the 3rd edition: New chapter: Formative and Summative Assessment; Three significantly revised chapters: Performance Assessment; Assessment Accommodation for English Learners and Students With Special Needs; Accommodation and Reading Assessment.

In 2nd edition: Assessing the Other Important Noncognitive Aspects of Reading; Fifteen reproducible and downloadable forms and checklists.

Handbook of Reading Assessment Sherry Mee Bell, R. Steve McCallum, 2015-07-30 The Handbook of Reading Assessment Second Edition covers the wide range of reading assessments educators must be able to use and understand to effectively assess and instruct their students. Comprehensive and filled with numerous authentic examples, the text addresses informal classroom-based assessment, progress monitoring, individual norm-referenced assessment, and group norm-referenced or high stakes testing. Coverage includes assessment content relevant for English language learners and adults. A set of test guidelines to use when selecting or evaluating an assessment tool is provided. New and updated in the Second Edition: Impact on reading assessment of Common Core Standards for literacy; increased top-down focus on accountability and high stakes tests; innovations in computerized assessment of reading; Latest developments in Response to Intervention (RTI) model, particularly as they impact reading assessment; International Reading Association standards for reading; educators and brief discussion of International Dyslexia Association standards; Types of reading assessment, including discussion of formative versus summative assessment; Expanded coverage of assessment of reading motivation; Expanded coverage of writing assessment; New and revised assessments across genres of reading.
