

1. Determine which chi-square test is appropriate in each of the following settings. Explain your reasoning. Do not carry out the test!

- (a) Have older cell-phone users caught on to texting? A random sample of individuals who are less than 30 years old and a random sample of individuals who are at least 30 years old were asked if they make more phone calls or send more text messages on their cell phone on a typical day. Here are the results:

| Response to question | Age group    |             | Total |
|----------------------|--------------|-------------|-------|
|                      | Less than 30 | At least 30 |       |
| More texts           | 146          | 32          | 178   |
| More phone calls     | 34           | 98          | 132   |
| Total                | 180          | 130         | 310   |
