

1. How do the respondents' perceptions differ on group norms? When is the technology considered the medium for innovation? Is that enough for them to feel that they have the power to change?
How respondents' in general place different priorities? Their responses concerning innovation are also consistent with their educational level. Gender seems to have no connection with responses.
The responses about the main factors and factors influencing self-efficacy concerning the application of technology seems to be consistent with the responses of the respondents.

2. What about their experiences in using a tool suggesting that respondents' in the survey think that a better way to evaluate the respondents' work is to use a computerized evaluation system for work across the institution when there is a need for improving the quality of the human resources for the work and learning. Their better evaluations are more accurate and more objective. It can give an objective assessment. If the respondents choose this evaluation system, it will be an advantage for the institution to evaluate their students' responses regarding the different areas they are interested in.
