Socio-economic Survey of Subsistence Fishing in the Okavango Delta, Botswana Barbara Ntombi Ngwenya,2008 A survey of subsistence or artisanal fishing in the Okavango Delta of Botswana the report concludes that people who fish for food in the Delta are socio economically marginalized dominated by a single ethnic group the BaHambukushu predominantly women with limited access to economic resources Fishing is opportunistic and seasonal and mainly done with traditional baskets The fishery s greatest value lies in the use of fish for food for domestic consumption Some subsistence fishers claim that government and commercial fishermen try to stop them from basket fishing The report points to the lack of a national fisheries policy Such a policy could help support and safeguard this major source of livelihood Amazoniana ,2006 Bulletin of Marine Science of the Gulf and Caribbean ,1996 Canadian Journal of Fisheries and Aquatic Sciences ,2006 Copeia ,1988 The Cumulative Book Index ,1988 A world list of books in the English language Global Perspectives on River Conservation P. J. Boon,B. R. Davies,Geoffrey E. Petts,2000-10-03 Throughout the world river conservation is becoming an increasingly important concern In arid regions for instance rivers often form the only water resource for human sustenance indeed the World Bank has predicted that future wars will be about water In many parts of the developing world rivers are used as repositories for waste and river ecosystems consequently reflect the worst excesses of human exploitation In the industrialised nations the focus of attention is beginning to move from chemical clean up to restoring the structural damage to rivers caused by decades of river engineering Recognition is growing that river management needs a catchment wide perspective if the needs of human populations river habitats and wildlife are to reach a sustainable balance The development of river conservation strategies has become a global imperative Global Perspectives on River Conservation is the first book that provides a truly global synthesis of knowledge on river conservation with the aim of encouraging strategic river planning It does this in two ways First it sets out a worldwide region by region overview of the science policy and practice of river conservation Second it provides a topical review of different river settings such as tropical temperate temporary perennial large small and contemporary issues in river conservation such as classification and evaluation environmental legislation the role of public participation Global Perspectives on River Conservation is an invaluable reference for river managers planners and developers conservationists statutory water agencies government departments academics researchers postgraduates and final year under graduates working in the field of environmental management of inland waters
